Kennedy Pledges Tax Cut

GOP Attacks 'Incompetent' JFK Regime

Senate And House Republicans Adopt Set Of Principles

WASHINGTON (AP) —Senate and House Republicans blasted the Kennedy administration for what they called weakness and irresolution in foreign affairs in adopting Thursday a set of party principles for election campaigners.

Intended as a handbook for the 1962 congresstional campaigns, the "Declaration of Republican Principle and Policy" lays down a broad program of action that touches all political bases without going into specific details.

Tax System Overhaul

It calls for a thorough overhaul of the tax system without specifically mentioning tax reduction, and for a reorganization of the United Nations. It proposes that Russia be challenged to "swing open for at least one year the barriers that make all of Eastern Europe a vast prison in order to permit the inhabitants a free choice of their own way of life."

The 2,500-word document was approved, with some dissents and reservations, at separate meetings of Senate and House GOP members.

It was drafted after consultation with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other party leaders by a 12-member committee headed by Rep. Melvin Laird, of Wisconsin.

House approval was announced as unanimous, but at least two senators dissented and some others reserved the right to clarify their positions later.

Farm Senator Objects

Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota said he objected to some farm section language which calls for encouragement of a massive long-term land retirement program.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky was reported to have taken exception to some of the foreign policy declarations.

The document was described as a consensus of Republican viewpoint in the Senate rather than as a statement approved in its entirety, and it was on this basis that Sen. Jacog K. Javits of New York accepted it. Javits was reported drafting a statement of his own.

Jouhaud Wins Unofficial Stay

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle has agreed to postpone his decision on the fate of ex-Gen. Edmond Jouhaud until after the July 1 referendum in Algeria despite the renewed wave of Secret Army violence there, government sources said Thursday.

The new unofficial stay of execution for Jouhaud, condemned to death before the firing squad as No. 2 leader of the OAS, became known within hours after two former OAS terrorists died before firing squads before dawn Thursday.

They were Albert (Bobby) Dovecar, 25, a Yugoslav-born former Foreign Legionnaire of Austrian nationality, and Claude Piegts, 28, a former insurance company agent. It was emphasized they died as murderers and Jouhaud was condemned for "political crimes."

De Gaulle was said to have agreed to postpone a decision on Jouhaud after members of his cabinet pleaded with him to save the former OAS leader. But De Gaulle was said to have emphasized the final decision must come from him alone.

Spelling Bee Ends In Draw

Michael Day and Nettie Crawford hold high the National Spelling Bee trophy after they were named co-champions of the 35th annual contest which concluded in Washington yesterday. After spelling their way through 59 tongue-twisting words, the finalists met their match on "esquamulose," which means smooth skin or without scales, and officials called it a draw. Michael, of Hardin, Ill., represented the St. Louis Globe Democrat, and Nettie, of Roswell, N. M., represented the El Paso Herald Post. (Story at bottom of page) (AP Photofax)

Laos Coalition Talks Reported Going Smoothly

KHANG KHAY, Laos (AP) — Laos' three ideologically split princes opened new summit talks Thursday and after two sessions reported themselves closer than ever to settling their seven-year civil war.

Souvanna Phouma, the neutralist prince, told newsmen very great progress was made and "If we continue to work in a similar atmosphere as that of today I am sure we will reach final agreement tomorrow (Friday)."

Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, military strong man of the government of Prince Boun Oum, expressed similar optimism and said the talks were going smoothly.

Avtar Singh, Indian chairman of the International Control Commission, said "I am confident and hopeful of a quick agreement."

The third prince, Souvanna's pro-Communist half-brother, Souphanouvong, rebel Pathet Lao, told reporters: "I am satisfied and I'm sure that a solution of a coalition is inevitable.'

The talks, after months of international maneuvering, opened in a barracks-like officers club 500 yards from the air strip of this capital of the rebel-held Plaine des Jarres.

The purpose was to complete the formation of a three-party coalition government of a neutral and independent Laos. Souvanna has been agreed upon by the United States, the Soviet Union and other members of the 14-nation Geneva conference as premier and holds a mandate from King Savang Vathana to form a government.

International representatives feared that if the negotiations break down after previous failures hostilities are sure to follow in this Southeast Asian land of three million people.

"Midget" Mail Will Be Banned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Post Office Department Thursday notified the general public that come next year it will have nothing to do with odd-shaped letters.

The department said it was issuing a reminder since a previous announcement was carried primarily in trade papers.

Under the regulation, mail less than 3 inches high or 4½ inches long will be banned starting Jan. 1, 1963. It must meet both the height and length minimum standards.

The reason for the regulation is mechanization. The department pointed out that its new automatic canceling machines have a great deal of trouble with letters that aren't of a standard size.

Dionne Quint Gives Birth To Daughter

Her husband, Florian Houle, reported both his wife and the baby, weighing 7 pounds, 2 ounces, are doing well.

The new baby is the eighth child born to the three married quints. Cecile, Mrs. Philippe Langlois of Quebec City, has four boys, and Annette, Mrs. Germain Allard of St. Bruno, Que., has two boys.

Texas Girl, Illinois Boy Spelling Bee Co-Champs

The lad, Michael Day, 14, of Hardin, Ill., and the lass, Nettie Crawford, 13, of Roswell, N.M., emerged as co-champions in the 35th annual National Spelling Bee.

It was the third time in bee history officials have called it a draw. But it had to be that way this year. And even with two winners, most observers thought the 1962 bee was a honey.

The judges frankly conceded they were running out of words. The bee had consumed 720 when it ended from "absence" at the opening to "esquamulose" at the end.

And when it reached the point where Mike answered 'sezalpinaceous" and Nettie replied "secopinaceous" when what they wanted was "caesalpiniaceous,"—pertaining to a family of tropical shrubs and trees—it was apparent the bee had become a guessing game.

Nettie and Mike battled nose-to-nose for 59 words and more than an hour after the bee's other 68 entrants had been eliminated. Some of the words—not many—seemed surprisingly easy. Nettie started the do-or-die round, for instance, by correctly spelling "yoicks," the cry of the fox hunter.

To the winners went prizes of $1,000 each and a weekend tour of New York City. Nettie and Mike both said they plan to save the money for college.

OAS Terrorism Resumed With Bombs, Bullets

ALGIERS (AP) — The Secret Army Organization shot down Moslems and burned the main building of Algiers University in a renewal of terror Thursday. But a dissident underground leader called for an end to devastation, declaring "We have lost the battle."

Three phosphorous bombs started the fire that gutted the university building, destroying a library and laboratories. A dozen other fires were set, and four Moslems died in street attacks as the terrorists shattered the seven-day truce that had brought a glimmer of peace hopes to the weary city.

The dissident secret army leader, Jean Georges Sarradet, said: "We have no right to drag the European community into a catastrophe."

Calling a news conference, he pleaded in an emotion-choked voice for peace and reconciliation with Moslems, saying the renewed terror is meaningless.

The statement underlined once again the deep rift in the leadership of the secret army which has been fighting Algeria's independence. The plea was similar to that of ex-Gen. Edmond Jouhaud, No. 2 man of the secret army, from his death cell in Paris.

Sarradet, who has been hiding under the name of Jacques Garcia, called on the Western powers to intervene to safeguard the fate of the European community in an independent Algeria.

Secret army leaders in Oran and Bone have vowed to fight on and Algiers underground leaders themselves announced Wednesday night "we are again taking up war" because negotiations with the Moslem leadership in Algiers for a settlement had failed.

Md. Prison Escapee Phones Newspaper

BALTIMORE (AP) — A man calling himself August Knapp called the Baltimore Evening Sun Thursday to inform the newspaper staff that he had escaped from the Maryland House of Correction. He said he had served half of a six-month sentence on a charge of driving on a revoked license.

"I wish he'd tell us about it," said Joseph B. Deutsch, deputy warden of the prison at Jessup.

Deutsch confirmed that a 43-year-old August Knapp of Essex, Baltimore County, had been among the prison's inmates.

Rusk To Visit Berlin, Other Allied Capitals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will fly to Europe for 10 days beginning June 19 to confer with Allied leaders and visit divided Berlin, the State Department announced Thursday.

The object of the trip is to discuss Allied relations in the military, economic and political fields at a time when the Western alliance is plagued by growing differences among some of its principal members.

His trip to Berlin on June 21 will be his first since taking office 17 months ago. The secretary plans to have a quick look at the Communist - erected Berlin wall and confer with the West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, who persuaded Rusk to reverse a previous decision not to visit the city on this trip.

The secretary's trip will take him to Paris, Berlin, Bonn, Rome, London and Lisbon. It is expected he will confer with French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer—the two Allies with whom the United States has been having the most difficulty over cold war strategy.

Officials said that in his discussions Rusk is expected to emphasize that the United States, which provides most of the muscle for the Atlantic alliance, intends to continue having a major voice in the policy of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

The officials said the tour was not so much a "fence-mending" operation as it was an effort to make clear that NATO is a two-way street on which others besides the United States must compromise.

The stop at Lisbon obviously was designed to help improve relations with the Portuguese government, which has resented U.S. support of criticism in the United Nations against Portuguese policy in Africa, notably Angola.

Massachusetts Demos Convene

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Massachusetts Democrats opened a three-day state convention Thursday with the Kennedy-McCormack battle for endorsement for the U.S. Senate the top issue.

The contest has pitted two of the state's leading political families for the Senate seat once held by President Kennedy.

The candidates are the President's youngest brother Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, and Edward J. McCormack Jr., the state attorney general and nephew of Speaker John W. McCormack of the U.S. House.

The name of the winner of the convention endorsement automatically goes to the top of the party primary ballot in September. The loser can, and is expected to continue the contest in the primary.

The Republicans also have a big name contest for senator in their convention in Worcester June 16. The rivals there are George C. Lodge and U.S. Rep. Laurence Curtis, R-Mass.

Lodge is a son of Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations in the Eisenhower administration, and a former U.S. senator.

Makarios Appeals For U.N. Peace Forces

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, appealed Thursday for creation of a United Nations peace force and sided with the West on the questions of disarmament and Germany.

The Greek Orthodox prelate, on a visit to the United States, spoke at the opening meeting of a resumed session of the General Assembly, convoked specifically to settle the troubled future of the Belgian-administered African territory of Ruanda-Urundi.

The 49-year-old Makarios, speaking in his black priestly garments, called for self-determination of all peoples and an end to colonialism. He pledged Cyprus' "primary allegiance" to the United Nations and delivered "a message of dedication and faith" to the 104-nation assembly.

FIRED — Robert E. Manuel, counsel to Republican members of the House Government Operations subcommittee, leaves a closed door meeting of the group after he was fired yesterday. House Probers Of Estes Case Fire Counsel

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee investigating the Billie Sol Estes case fired its Republican counsel Thursday for giving a newspaper reporter a confidential report before it was even read by committee members.

The day-long, interparty wrangle behind closed doors over the action of Robert Manuel, counsel to the GOP minority members of the committee, delayed public examination of ousted Agriculture Department employes who had been scheduled as witnesses.

The subcommittee on intergovernmental relations announced it would resume the public hearings Friday.

Manuel, who had held his job for only two weeks, acknowledged to newsmen that he had "leaked" to Earl Mazo of the New York Herald Tribune a copy of an Agriculture Department report on the Texas farmer-financier. Estes rose spectacularly to great wealth and fell just as sensationally into bankruptcy and now is under federal fraud indictment.

The 140-page report is concerned partly with Estes' cotton allotment dealings—an aspect of the case not currently under subcommittee examination — and partly with the death of Henry Marshall, an Agriculture Department employe in Texas who was shot to death while investigating Estes' acquisition of extensive cotton allotments.

In another Capitol Hill echo of the case, Rep. H. Carl Andersen, R-Minn., announced he would seek re-election this year as an independent, not as a Republican. He has been elected as a Republican since 1938.

Anderson, in an impassioned speech to the House Wednesday, said he was being shunned unjustly by his Republican colleagues since it was disclosed he once sold Estes $4,000 in stock in a coal mine controlled by the Andersen family.

U.S. Farm Surpluses Are Exempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed a $4.7-billion foreign aid bill Thursday night after backtracking a big step on its decision to cut off all aid to Communist satellite nations. It voted to exempt surplus farm shipments to Poland and Yugoslavia.

The vote on final passage was 61-23.

The reversal of Wednesday's outright ban on help to Red-dominated nations was welcomed by President Kennedy. He told his news conference it would give him very necessary felixibility to help peoples who want to remain independent.

But the Senate retained some strings. The President could, if he finds it in the national interest and notifies Congress in advance, make millions of dollars worth of food shipments to Yugoslavia and Poland.

House Yet To Act

The aid bill, on which the House has yet to act, authorizes $600 million for the fiscal year starting July 1 and $800 million fo each of three succeeding years for the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

No effort was made to cut the $4,662,000,000 total in the bill, already reduced by $216.5 million by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee from the amount Kennedy requested.

This blueprint bill authorizing the spending will be followed by a separate measure providing the money. The actual appropriation is usually lower than the authorization measure.

Ban Eased By 56-34 Vote

The retreat from Wednesday's 57-24 vote came partially in response to administration arguments that a clampdown on aid would drive Yugoslavia firmly into the Soviet camp. Mainly, the switch occurred because some farm state senators were dismayed at discovering they would lose outlets for farm surpluses—Poland and Yugoslavia, Senate leaders said.

Under prodding from both the Democratic and Republican leadership, the Senate voted 56-34 to permit President Kennedy, under certain conditions, to continue to sell or give the two nations surplus foods and commodities.

Bomber Breaks World Records

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — A Strategic Air Command B-52-H Stratofortress jet completed an 11,400 mile "closed circuit" flight without refueling Thursday, spending 22 hours and 38 minutes in the air to establish two records.

The huge eight-jet SAC bomber from Homestead Air Force Base, Fla., touched down here at 2:41 p.m. EST (3:41 p.m. EDT) to complete the record flight across the North American Continent. It passed over Greenland, Alaska, California and Florida during the fatiguing flight.

The plane left Seymour Johnson Air Force Base here at 4 p.m. EST Wednesday carrying a crew of seven and two National Aeronautics Association (NAA) officials who validated the record flight under international rules.

The old "closed circuit" distance record was 10,078 miles set by a SAC B-52-G in 1960.

Government To Sponsor Smoking-Cancer Survey

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Kennedy administration Thursday ordered the establishment of a committee of experts to study the impact of smoking on health and "make whatever recommendations may be appropriate."

Announcement of this "comprehensive review of all available data" was made by Surgeon General Luther Terry, head of the U.S. Public Health Service.

President Kennedy told his news conference the survey might take some months to complete, or even go into next year. He said he supported the idea of the investigation.

The proposed inquiry was welcomed on behalf of the tobacco industry by George V. Allen, president of the Tobacco Institute, Inc.

For years the Public Health Service has supported research into the cause-and-effect relationship between tobacco and such diseases as cancer and heart trouble.

Now, Terry said, "It is timely to undertake a comprehensive review of all available data."

The surgeon general said that "I have, therefore, decided to appoint an expert advisory committee to study the evidence, evaluate it, and make whatever recommendations may be appropriate."

The group, he said, will consist of a panel of experts drawn up after consultation with "federal agencies concerned, nongovernmental professional groups, health organizations, and the tobacco industry." Its membership will be announced when the panel is completed.

President Urges Congress To Act On Business Aids

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy said Thursday he will ask Congress to enact across-the-board cuts in personal income and corporate tax rates effective next Jan. 1 so that the present economic recovery will not "run out of gas."

He said a comprehensive tax reform bill containing these features would be offered for action by the next Congress. The tax reductions would be retroactive to Jan. 1 if the bill is passed.

The President told his news conference that there are five tax proposals which he will propose, or has proposed, that should spur the nation's complete recovery from the effects of last year's recession.

Kennedy did not flatly rule out asking Congress to cut taxes this year. While it was his opinion now that the reductions would not be needed until next year, he said that "if new circumstances brought a new situation, then we would have to make other judgments."

Talks Devoted To Economy

Most of the President's news conference was devoted to the state of the American economy, a subject that has preoccupied administrative thinking since the stock market began fluctuating so wildly last week.

He laid these gyrations to the fact that "most financial experts have realized for some time that an overpriced market could not hold up once investors recognize that inflation has ended."

But he said that the nation must not permit the effects of this market adjustment to "hamper the growth rate of our economy, with which we have, as you know, not been fully satisfied."

He said that recovery from last year's recession has been good, and the prospects for continued economic expansion remain favorable.

However, he added that "we should take every appropriate step to make certain that recovery is stronger and longer than before and is not cut short by a new recession."

He therefore outlined a series of five tax proposals—some already made, some to be made—which would be designed to pump money into the economy. Most of the measures involved providing business with incentives to make more investments, and build more plants.

Would Affect Pocketbooks

But the personal income tax measure would affect the pocketbooks of every American. He said the proposal would send up to Congress for enactment next year would "not be wholly offset by other reforms." Therefore it would be a "net tax reduction."

For business, he outlined these proposals:

—A $1.3 billion tax credit of 8 per cent on new investment in

China Anti-Red Revolt Reported

HONG KONG (UPI)—The pro-nationalist Truce Daily reported Thursday what it claimed was the "first organized anti-Communist rebellion in mainland China."

The newspapers said about 5,000 coolies in the Lo-Kai-To coal mine area of Kwangtung Province started a bloody attack against two company-size Communist guards units stationed in nearby barracks last May 30.

The coolies attacked an undisclosed number of Communist soldiers in two barracks.

All the soldiers in one of the barracks were easily overpowered. The Communists were killed except those who had treated the miners with sympathy the paper said.

In the other barracks, where the Communists were armed and ready for the attacking rebels, there was considerable resistance reported from the Reds. The newspaper said a vicious battle ensued. It said 10 of the rebels were killed, but every one of the Communists also was killed.

The paper said, in a later report, that 2,000 of the rebels were arrested by reinforced Communist troops of about two battalions. However, the armed rebels fled into the Wu-Lin-T-Shan Mountain.

His trip to Berlin on June 21 will be his first since taking office 17 months ago. The secretary plans to have a quick look at the Communist - erected Berlin wall and confer with the West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt, who persuaded Rusk to reverse a previous decision not to visit the city on this trip.

The secretary's trip will take him to Paris, Berlin, Bonn, Rome, London and Lisbon. It is expected he will confer with French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer—the two Allies with whom the United States has been having the most difficulty over cold war strategy.

Officials said that in his discussions Rusk is expected to emphasize that the United States, which provides most of the muscle for the Atlantic alliance, intends to continue having a major voice in the policy of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

The officials said the tour was not so much a "fence-mending" operation as it was an effort to make clear that NATO is a two-way street on which others besides the United States must compromise.

The stop at Lisbon obviously was designed to help improve relations with the Portuguese government, which has resented U.S. support of criticism in the United Nations against Portuguese policy in Africa, notably Angola.

Massachusetts Demos Convene

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Massachusetts Democrats opened a three-day state convention Thursday with the Kennedy-McCormack battle for endorsement for the U.S. Senate the top issue.

The contest has pitted two of the state's leading political families for the Senate seat once held by President Kennedy.

The candidates are the President's youngest brother Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, and Edward J. McCormack Jr., the state attorney general and nephew of Speaker John W. McCormack of the U.S. House.

The name of the winner of the convention endorsement automatically goes to the top of the party primary ballot in September. The loser can, and is expected to continue the contest in the primary.

The Republicans also have a big name contest for senator in their convention in Worcester June 16. The rivals there are George C. Lodge and U.S. Rep. Laurence Curtis, R-Mass.

Lodge is a son of Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations in the Eisenhower administration, and a former U.S. senator.

Md. Prison Escapee Phones Newspaper

BALTIMORE (AP) — A man calling himself August Knapp called the Baltimore Evening Sun Thursday to inform the newspaper staff that he had escaped from the Maryland House of Correction. He said he had served half of a six-month sentence on a charge of driving on a revoked license.

"I wish he'd tell us about it," said Joseph B. Deutsch, deputy warden of the prison at Jessup.

Deutsch confirmed that a 43-year-old August Knapp of Essex, Baltimore County, had been among the prison's inmates.

Makarios Appeals For U.N. Peace Forces

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, appealed Thursday for creation of a United Nations peace force and sided with the West on the questions of disarmament and Germany.

The Greek Orthodox prelate, on a visit to the United States, spoke at the opening meeting of a resumed session of the General Assembly, convoked specifically to settle the troubled future of the Belgian-administered African territory of Ruanda-Urundi.

The 49-year-old Makarios, speaking in his black priestly garments, called for self-determination of all peoples and an end to colonialism. He pledged Cyprus' "primary allegiance" to the United Nations and delivered "a message of dedication and faith" to the 104-nation assembly.

House Probers Of Estes Case Fire Counsel

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee investigating the Billie Sol Estes case fired its Republican counsel Thursday for giving a newspaper reporter a confidential report before it was even read by committee members.

The day-long, interparty wrangle behind closed doors over the action of Robert Manuel, counsel to the GOP minority members of the committee, delayed public examination of ousted Agriculture Department employes who had been scheduled as witnesses.

The subcommittee on intergovernmental relations announced it would resume the public hearings Friday.

Manuel, who had held his job for only two weeks, acknowledged to newsmen that he had "leaked" to Earl Mazo of the New York Herald Tribune a copy of an Agriculture Department report on the Texas farmer-financier. Estes rose spectacularly to great wealth and fell just as sensationally into bankruptcy and now is under federal fraud indictment.

The 140-page report is concerned partly with Estes' cotton allotment dealings—an aspect of the case not currently under subcommittee examination — and partly with the death of Henry Marshall, an Agriculture Department employe in Texas who was shot to death while investigating Estes' acquisition of extensive cotton allotments.

In another Capitol Hill echo of the case, Rep. H. Carl Andersen, R-Minn., announced he would seek re-election this year as an independent, not as a Republican. He has been elected as a Republican since 1938.

Anderson, in an impassioned speech to the House Wednesday, said he was being shunned unjustly by his Republican colleagues since it was disclosed he once sold Estes $4,000 in stock in a coal mine controlled by the Andersen family.

U.S. Farm Surpluses Are Exempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed a $4.7-billion foreign aid bill Thursday night after backtracking a big step on its decision to cut off all aid to Communist satellite nations. It voted to exempt surplus farm shipments to Poland and Yugoslavia.

The vote on final passage was 61-23.

The reversal of Wednesday's outright ban on help to Red-dominated nations was welcomed by President Kennedy. He told his news conference it would give him very necessary felixibility to help peoples who want to remain independent.

But the Senate retained some strings. The President could, if he finds it in the national interest and notifies Congress in advance, make millions of dollars worth of food shipments to Yugoslavia and Poland.

House Yet To Act

The aid bill, on which the House has yet to act, authorizes $600 million for the fiscal year starting July 1 and $800 million fo each of three succeeding years for the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

No effort was made to cut the $4,662,000,000 total in the bill, already reduced by $216.5 million by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee from the amount Kennedy requested.

This blueprint bill authorizing the spending will be followed by a separate measure providing the money. The actual appropriation is usually lower than the authorization measure.

Ban Eased By 56-34 Vote

The retreat from Wednesday's 57-24 vote came partially in response to administration arguments that a clampdown on aid would drive Yugoslavia firmly into the Soviet camp. Mainly, the switch occurred because some farm state senators were dismayed at discovering they would lose outlets for farm surpluses—Poland and Yugoslavia, Senate leaders said.

Under prodding from both the Democratic and Republican leadership, the Senate voted 56-34 to permit President Kennedy, under certain conditions, to continue to sell or give the two nations surplus foods and commodities.

Bomber Breaks World Records

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (UPI) — A Strategic Air Command B-52-H Stratofortress jet completed an 11,400 mile "closed circuit" flight without refueling Thursday, spending 22 hours and 38 minutes in the air to establish two records.

The huge eight-jet SAC bomber from Homestead Air Force Base, Fla., touched down here at 2:41 p.m. EST (3:41 p.m. EDT) to complete the record flight across the North American Continent. It passed over Greenland, Alaska, California and Florida during the fatiguing flight.

The plane left Seymour Johnson Air Force Base here at 4 p.m. EST Wednesday carrying a crew of seven and two National Aeronautics Association (NAA) officials who validated the record flight under international rules.

The old "closed circuit" distance record was 10,078 miles set by a SAC B-52-G in 1960.

Government To Sponsor Smoking-Cancer Survey

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Kennedy administration Thursday ordered the establishment of a committee of experts to study the impact of smoking on health and "make whatever recommendations may be appropriate."

Announcement of this "comprehensive review of all available data" was made by Surgeon General Luther Terry, head of the U.S. Public Health Service.

President Kennedy told his news conference the survey might take some months to complete, or even go into next year. He said he supported the idea of the investigation.

The proposed inquiry was welcomed on behalf of the tobacco industry by George V. Allen, president of the Tobacco Institute, Inc.

For years the Public Health Service has supported research into the cause-and-effect relationship between tobacco and such diseases as cancer and heart trouble.

Now, Terry said, "It is timely to undertake a comprehensive review of all available data."

The surgeon general said that "I have, therefore, decided to appoint an expert advisory committee to study the evidence, evaluate it, and make whatever recommendations may be appropriate."

The group, he said, will consist of a panel of experts drawn up after consultation with "federal agencies concerned, nongovernmental professional groups, health organizations, and the tobacco industry." Its membership will be announced when the panel is completed.

President Urges Congress To Act On Business Aids

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy said Thursday he will ask Congress to enact across-the-board cuts in personal income and corporate tax rates effective next Jan. 1 so that the present economic recovery will not "run out of gas."

He said a comprehensive tax reform bill containing these features would be offered for action by the next Congress. The tax reductions would be retroactive to Jan. 1 if the bill is passed.

The President told his news conference that there are five tax proposals which he will propose, or has proposed, that should spur the nation's complete recovery from the effects of last year's recession.

Kennedy did not flatly rule out asking Congress to cut taxes this year. While it was his opinion now that the reductions would not be needed until next year, he said that "if new circumstances brought a new situation, then we would have to make other judgments."

Talks Devoted To Economy

Most of the President's news conference was devoted to the state of the American economy, a subject that has preoccupied administrative thinking since the stock market began fluctuating so wildly last week.

He laid these gyrations to the fact that "most financial experts have realized for some time that an overpriced market could not hold up once investors recognize that inflation has ended."

But he said that the nation must not permit the effects of this market adjustment to "hamper the growth rate of our economy, with which we have, as you know, not been fully satisfied."

He said that recovery from last year's recession has been good, and the prospects for continued economic expansion remain favorable.

However, he added that "we should take every appropriate step to make certain that recovery is stronger and longer than before and is not cut short by a new recession."

He therefore outlined a series of five tax proposals—some already made, some to be made—which would be designed to pump money into the economy. Most of the measures involved providing business with incentives to make more investments, and build more plants.

Would Affect Pocketbooks

But the personal income tax measure would affect the pocketbooks of every American. He said the proposal would send up to Congress for enactment next year would "not be wholly offset by other reforms." Therefore it would be a "net tax reduction."

For business, he outlined these proposals:

China Anti-Red Revolt Reported

HONG KONG (UPI)—The pro-nationalist Truce Daily reported Thursday what it claimed was the "first organized anti-Communist rebellion in mainland China."

The newspapers said about 5,000 coolies in the Lo-Kai-To coal mine area of Kwangtung Province started a bloody attack against two company-size Communist guards units stationed in nearby barracks last May 30.

The coolies attacked an undisclosed number of Communist soldiers in two barracks.

All the soldiers in one of the barracks were easily overpowered. The Communists were killed except those who had treated the miners with sympathy the paper said.

In the other barracks, where the Communists were armed and ready for the attacking rebels, there was considerable resistance reported from the Reds. The newspaper said a vicious battle ensued. It said 10 of the rebels were killed, but every one of the Communists also was killed.

The paper said, in a later report, that 2,000 of the rebels were arrested by reinforced Communist troops of about two battalions. However, the armed rebels fled into the Wu-Lin-T-Shan Mountain.

Doctor Hunted In Girl's Dismemberment Death

NEW YORK (AP) — A police manhunt was on Thursday for an eccentric, free-spending physician, after dismembered parts of a girl's body were found in the sewer of his lavish Queens home and office. The victim had been cut up with a power saw, apparently after an abortion.

The missing man, Dr. Harvey Lothringer, 41, disappeared Sunday under the very eyes of authorities, who were suspicious of his ethics.

Later, he telephoned a policeman friend and arranged for a service firm to come Tuesday and clean his sewer. The significance of the request and the possible obsession it reflected was lost on the friend—until the sewer cleaners came upon the body parts.

The girl was believed to be Barbara Lofrumento, 19, sophomore at the College of New Rochelle, a Roman Catholic school for girls in Westchester County. Her parents told police they had delivered her into Dr. Lothringer's hands before dawn Sunday for an abortion. The fee was $500 in advance.

Queens Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor said Dr. Lothringer's 25-room, $75,000 home—where he also had his office — had been under surveillance for three weeks and that police were about ready to arrest him on two specific charges of abortion.

The girl's mother, Rose, said she kept vigil at the doctor's office during her daughter's abortion. About 7:30 a.m. Sunday, Dr. Lothringer came into the waiting room and told her:

"Everything is going to be all right. I'll get in touch with you later. You'd better go home."

That afternoon, Mrs. Lofrumento and her husband, Dominick, a well-to-do pharmacist, went back to the doctor's office. Dr. Lothringer was gone. So was the girl.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan named Decatur H. Miller to the new post of securities commissioner to administer the recently enacted "Blue Sky Laws."

Court Orders Handley High Admit Negroes

HARRISONBURG, Va. (AP) — Two young Negro girls won a federal court order Thursday directing their admission to Winchester's all-white Handley High School in September.

Judge Thomas J. Michie's order will mean the first school racial integration in Winchester.

He also ordered the Winchester School Board to draw up a pupil assignment plan which wasn't based on racial consideration by July 14.

In comments during the brief 30-minute hearing, Michie hinted the Lynchburg grade-a-year school integration plan he approved might serve as the guidelines for some of his future decisions.

But, he said, "I do not necessarily feel that what was approved in Lynchburg would be approved in Winchester because of different conditions."

The two 16-year-old girls, Harriett Anne Williams, a 10th grader, and Gloria Ann Brown, a 9th grader, have been attending the all-Negro Douglas School. They each would go up a grade next year.

Their Douglas assignments were made because they lived nearer that school, said School Supt. Garland R. Quarles.

The chairman of the state pupil placement board, E. J. Oglesby, said the girls' applications for transfers were denied because of residence.

Receivership Rulings Appealed By S&L Firms

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Attorneys for two savings and loan associations, which were ordered into receivership, told the Court of Appeals Thursday no emergency existed for such action to be taken against their corporations.

The attorneys for First Continental Savings and Loan Association and Freestate Savings and Loan Association, in separate cases, appealed lower court rulings.

The corporations tested the constitutionality of a regulatory law of the savings and loan industry which was passed in a special session of the 1961 General Assembly.

It was under the provisions of the law that action was initiated which resulted in the two receiverships appealed to the state's high court.

The case was heard before a full seven-member court with Chief Judge Emory N. Niles of Baltimore's Supreme Bench sitting for Associate Judge C. Ferdinand Sybert who disqualified himself. Sybert is a former Maryland attorney general.

Leon H. A. Piersen, attorney for Freestate, argued that "our complaint is this . . . the director has always found an emergency and has completely bypassed the administrative procedures set up by the legislature.

"We have been denied our constitutional right under the administrative processes. If there was mismanagement, then the administrative process should be followed."

The state, through Deputy Atty. Gen. Joseph S. Kaufman and Assistant Atty. Gen. James P. Garland, contended that the director of the department of assessments and taxation Albert W. Ward, as administrator of the law, should decide if an emergency existed.

They argued that if he found an emergency, he should present his case and let the court decide if the savings and loan corporation is insolvent or operating contrary to law.

However, the corporation lawyers argued that the courts should decide if an emergency condition existed and that the state did not prove an emergency existed.

Under the law, if no emergency existed, conferences with and warnings against the savings and loan associations would precede any court action on the part of the state. But in an emergency, the state can go right to court and ask that the associations be ordered into receivership.

He said this revision would be issued within the next month and will make over $1 billion in added cash reserves available for additional business investment.

He also urged Congress to pass one of his recommendations which would provide the president with standby tax reduction authority. He said this could be a toll which "could be used instantly and effectively should a new recession threaten to engulf us."

The bill is now tied up in the House Ways & Means Committee.

He expressed hope that the Senate would pass the legislation before adjourning. "If they do not, we would have to take a look at the situation," he said.

—Kennedy said he was pleased that the Senate Thursday eased the total ban it voted on U.S. aid to Communist countries. He said Congress should not "slam the door" on peoples living on the ideological edge of the Iron Curtain.

—Questioned about a report from Paris that he is arranging a meeting with French President De Gaulle, Kennedy replied, "I haven't heard of that."

—Asked about a speech by Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey suggesting that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York was guilty of race prejudice, Kennedy replied that he had never seen any evidence that Rockefeller was "prejudiced in any way."

World Church Program Urged

FREDERICK (AP) — Lincoln S. Cain of Pittsfield, Mass., said Thursday the main problem for the United Church of Christ in world ministries is "how to help people to think like Christians."

Cain is a member of the executive council of the United Church of Christ, recently formed by a merger of the Evangelical Reformed Church and the Congregational Church.

He told the 23rd annual spring convention of the church's Potomac Synod that such a program must be worldwide to develop religious maturity in the minds of young people everywhere.

About 300 ministers and laymen are attending the meeting at Hood College in Frederick which opened Wednesday and closes Friday. They represent 101 Church of Christ churches in Maryland, Virginia, the District of Columbia and part of West Virginia.

Cain also said selection of a site for church headquarters has been postponed until a special committee makes a recommendation to the 1963 general synod meeting in

Cops Mistaken For Burglars; One Shot In Ankle

OXON HILL, Md. (AP)—Thomas Monahan thought there were burglars in the car which pulled up to his appliance store in the Eastover Shopping Center early Thursday morning.

The occupants did not respond when Monahan yelled to them, so he opened fire with a .35 caliber rifle.

This stopped the car, and two men emerged. They identified themselves as Patrolman Ewing Northcutt and Albert L. Kulle of the Prince Georges County Police. Northcutt was hospitalized with a wound in the right ankle.

Monahan charged with assault with intent to kill, was quoted by police as saying he was sorry the incident happened.

Cancer Drive Nets $557,000

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Cancer Society in Maryland collected $557,000 of its official $625,000 goal this year, but contributions are still coming in.

The society's volunteer workers from throughout the state met in the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel Thursday and heard statewide president Dr. Bernard Brack announce the figures.

The society's official fund-raising drive took place in April. However, contributions — for example, those sent through the mail—are received throughout the year.

Dr. Howard W. Jones Jr., the group's statewide medical director, reported that of $600,000 collected last year, $360,000 was used in Maryland on treatment, research and education.

He said the balance was forwarded to the national Cancer Society in accordance with an agreed-upon 60-40 per cent division of funds.

Dr. Jones reported that $42,000 of the funds collected last year was devoted to research projects.

Cops Mistaken For Burglars; One Shot In Ankle

OXON HILL, Md. (AP)—Thomas Monahan thought there were burglars in the car which pulled up to his appliance store in the Eastover Shopping Center early Thursday morning.

The occupants did not respond when Monahan yelled to them, so he opened fire with a .35 caliber rifle.

This stopped the car, and two men emerged. They identified themselves as Patrolman Ewing Northcutt and Albert L. Kulle of the Prince Georges County Police. Northcutt was hospitalized with a wound in the right ankle.

Monahan charged with assault with intent to kill, was quoted by police as saying he was sorry the incident happened.

Cancer Drive Nets $557,000

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Cancer Society in Maryland collected $557,000 of its official $625,000 goal this year, but contributions are still coming in.

The society's volunteer workers from throughout the state met in the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel Thursday and heard statewode president Dr. Bernard Brack announce the figures.

The society's official fund-raising drive took place in April. However, contributions — for example, those sent through the mail—are received throughout the year.

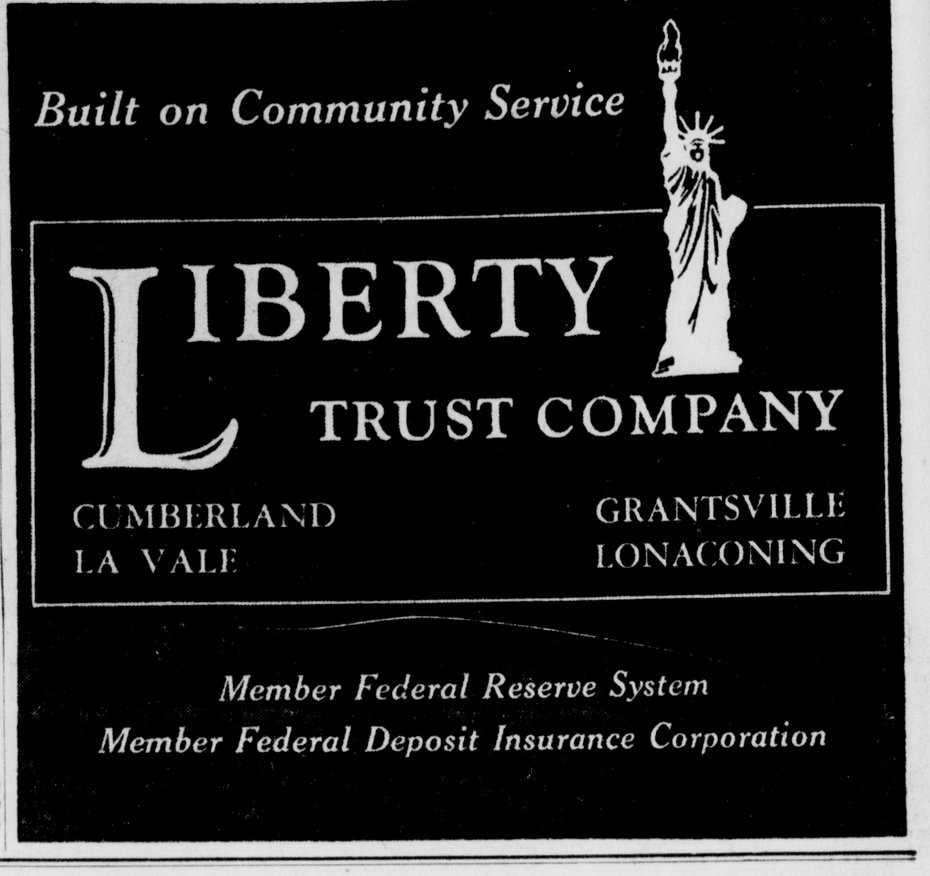

Dr. Howard W. Jones Jr., the group's statewide medical director, reported that of $600,000 collected last year, $360,000 was used in Maryland on treatment, research and education.

He said the balance was forwarded to the national Cancer Society in accordance with an agreed-upon 60-40 per cent division of funds.

Dr. Jones reported that $42,000 of the funds collected last year was devoted to research projects.

Krishna Menon Sells Many Indians On Purchase Of Soviet-Built Fighter Planes

By PATRICK J. KILLEN

NEW DELHI (UPI)—India's defense ministry under V. K. Krishna Menon has convinced many Indians that the purchase of Russian-built MIG 21 supersonic jets would make a lot of sense.

According to the word put out by the defense ministry, approaches for fighter aircraft were made to a number of countries. The Russian jets, it turns out, would be cheaper than Western planes and delivery would be faster.

(One Indian journalist reported the MIG's would cost 1-3 the price of American F104 jets.)

This was extensively reported in Indian newspapers. Another widely reported item was that neighboring Pakistan, singled out by Menon as India's most immediate threat, had "two squadrons of American supplied F104s." (According to informed sources, the Pakistanis only have one squadron consisting of 12 planes.)

Largely overlooked by the Indian press and ignored by the defense ministry was that spokesmen of the American Embassy and the United Kingdom High Commission flatly denied their governments had been approached for supersonic aircraft. The closest thing to it had been some informal talks with commercial plane manufacturers.

Menon has yet to confirm that negotiations were held with the Russians. But he bluntly told inquiring reporters:

"Ours is a free country. We have the independence to buy equipment or arms from anywhere we like."

At the same session, Menon upbraided a number of Indian reporters for breaking the news of the MIG negotiations. In a 30-minute harangue, he accused them of being unpatriotic by revealing military secrets.

According to all indications here the news reports caught the volatile defense ministry by surprise. A number of diplomats speculated Menon wanted to close the deal before word leaked out.

It was not clear exactly where or why the leak occurred. The first report was buried deep in a column on defense problems in the Times of India. A few days later, the same newspaper in a front page story said negotiations for the Russian jets were in an advanced stage and an agreement was imminent. It also reported the Russians were prepared to allow for Indian manufacture of the planes. Other newspapers followed with similar reports.

Nutritionists have estimated that the nutritional elements in one quart of milk would cost more than 40 cents if duplicated by other foods.

Make Bed Table In Quick Jiffy

If you need a bed table for the home convalescent, there's a simple, quick way to make one from material on hand in the home workshop. Any industrial arts student or handyman husband can whip this together in less than an hour.

Materials needed are a piece of hardboard and four pieces of broom handle or other scrap lumber, cut into equal lengths.

All there is to making this simple bed table is rounding corners a bit with a file or sandblock and attaching the legs through pre-drilled holes from the smooth surface of the hardboard. Rounding the edges a bit makes for a more attractive job.

Make Bed Table In Quick Jiffy

If you need a bed table for the home convalescent, there's a simple, quick way to make one from material on hand in the home workshop. Any industrial arts student or handyman husband can whip this together in less than an hour.

Materials needed are a piece of hardboard and four pieces of broom handle or other scrap lumber, cut into equal lengths.

All there is to making this simple bed table is rounding corners a bit with a file or sandblock and attaching the legs through pre-drilled holes from the smooth surface of the hardboard. Rounding the edges a bit makes for a more attractive job.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) —In the name of adjustment, contemporary humans visit psychiatrists to change personality, go on crash diets to change shape, and dye to change the hair.

The trend to adjusting beauty, natural endowments and environments has reached such a pace that you can't always say "seeing's believing" it's natural.

Once eyeglasses simply corrected defective vision. Then contact lenses came along and were used for safety's sake in contact sports. Now there are lenses tinted to make orbs of brown or green look blue. And unless you know, the false blue looks like nature's own!

Take the adjustments in hair. Tinting and dyeing switches has given way to wigs. That glamorous redhead is by turn, as she wishes, a blonde or a brunette sporting a beehive.

Look what's happened to teeth. Hollywood stars started the recapping trend and now most anyone who can afford it can turn in naturally poor-looking grinders into perfect ones. All it takes is sitting a spell in the dental chair—and money.

When the hands of time etch wrinkles in the skin, females stop the clock—and even turn it back—via face-lift. For the young with a nose that doesn't quite suit, a surgeon adjusts it to better the profile. Surgical augmenting of bosom lines is another area in which adjustment figures.

Males make plenty of adjustments, too. For the hero who aspires to reach greater heights, the solution comes in adjustable or elevator shoes.

Pop's adjustments range from an adjustable safety razor regulated to suit any condition of skin and beard to stretch socks, slippers and hats.

In the home, furniture turns from couch to bed with a flick of a lever. What looks like a coffee table can also be a card table or a dining table.

You adjust the seat in your car to suit your size, drive to a gas station where the management, saving on space, installs adjustable gas pumps, dispensing a variety of blends from one pump.

Some car buffs pay the extra for bucket seats that can be converted into beds. If they have an accident, they see an insurance adjustor.

Plane Sabotage Curbs Studied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Top federal and air industry officials Wednesday set in motion a new campaign to prevent airliner sabotage.

A high-level government-industry group ordered a complete review of all possible anti-sabotage steps within the next six weeks. The decision was made at a closed meeting presided over by Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby.

Also attending were Chairman Glenn E. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission, Civil Aeronautics Board Chairman Alan S. Boyd, President Stuart H. Tipton of the Air Transport Association, Deputy Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, Director Courtney Evans of the FBI's special investigation unit, and Director Jerome Lederer of the Flight Safety Foundation.

After a three-hour session which included a briefing by government and industry experts on explosives the group agreed to review all practical proposals and put any worthwhile ones into effect.

The meeting was called as an aftermath of the May 22 bombing of a Continental Airlines jet near Centerville, Iowa, in which all 45 aboard were killed. The FBI has taken over the criminal investigation aspects of the crash.

Several species of whales are believed by scientists to restrict their activity to the Arctic and temperate zone regions.

Science And You

By The Associated Press

Oceanic Highway

The Gulf Stream is an oceanic superhighway, the "most influential river in the ocean," says Dr. Donald J. Zinn, University of Rhode Island zoologist.

Each summer and early fall, it carries dozens of species of tropical fish northward from the areas of Florida and Brazil into protected harbors of Rhode Island Sound and the Woods Hole, Mass., region. They die when the temperature falls.

Each year, millions of American and European eels, in larval stage, travel up from their common birthplace in the Sargasso Sea southwest of Bermuda.

Carried northwest by the stream, young American eels veer northeast with the Gulf Stream and by the time they reach the young adult stage—two years after the American eels do—they are off the coast of Europe.

Although both types share the Gulf Stream highway, no American eel ever has been recognized in Europe, and no European eel has been recorded in North America, Dr. Zinn writes.

Radiation Detector

For instant warning if you're being exposed to radiation, a new device resembling an over-sized fountain pen flashes a neon light and makes a chirping sound.

Containing a miniature Geiger counter, and powered by a battery lasting about one month, this 3½-ounce personal radiation monitor was developed by R. H. Dilworth and C. J. Borkowski of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., National Laboratory. Film badges and other detectors tell how much radiation a person has been exposed to, after the fact.

This monitor, being produced by a private firm, tells the wearer by its flash and chirp when radiation levels are rising, and gives an indication, by frequency of sound and light, how much.

Forestry experts list the 10 most important trees in the world as the date palm, coconut palm, almond, apple, fig, mulberry, olive, lemon, chinchona and rubber trees.

Almost a quarter of the national income of Canada comes from her exports. With the possible exception of New Zealand, Canada is the greatest trading nation of the world, on a per capita basis.

Methodist Told Negro Missionary Work Vital

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Methodists must act as Christians and not only welcome Negroes but do missionary work among them both in cities of the United States and throughout the world, the 178th Baltimore Conference of the church was told Thursday.

"Before long it will be three-quarters of the world that is non-white," Dr. Darrell Randall said at the first general session of the six-day meeting.

"Our churches must take vigorous steps to implement the highest ideal of our Christian teachings of love and brotherhood." Dr. Randall is an associate professor at American University.

A report of the Board of Missions adopted by the 700 delegates declared "one of our greatest missionary opportunities" is in Baltimore and the District of Columbia.

"The white population continues to decrease, while the Negro population continues to increase," the reported noted.

"Future growth of the Methodist Church in the cities of Washington and Baltimore depends largely upon the development of a successful ministry among the Negro population."

The report stated that out of the present Negro population of 418,690 in Washington, only 7,249 are members of the Methodist Church. In Baltimore, only 16,816 out of 328,658 are Methodists.

Dr. Randall said Christians must also assume leadership in providing food and education for the world's underprivileged.

"If you think we are troubled with revolutionary agitation in the world today, think of what the situation will be when the other half learns to read," Dr. Randall said.

"Christians must lead the way for worldwide cooperation in making educational opportunities available for the whole world.

"Christians, likewise, must insist that means to be worked out to make world food surpluses available to the people who need them."

He said it is not enough for "personal religious faith" and that churches must assume leadership.

Muskie Won't Call Off Talk; No Negro Ban

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, refused Thursday to cancel a talk to the Maryland Municipal League next Tuesday in Ocean City because the hotel will not lodge Negroes.

Mrs. Irma G. Dixon, a Negro member of the Maryland House of Delegates from Baltimore City, had telegraphed Muskie earlier this week saying his appearance would indicate his support of segregation.

"I was not aware of discriminatory policies at Ocean City when I accepted the invitation of the Maryland Municipal League," Muskie replied by wire.

"I deplore segregation and discrimination. It is my understanding that the league is not discriminatory in its membership policies and that the meeting will be open to all league members, regardless of race."

He took the view that his appearance "at an unsegregated meeting in an otherwise segregated community represents, in fact, a gain for civil rights."

Alan Beals, the league's executive secreatry, confirmed that Negroes could attend the three-day conference and eat at the (Commander) hotel. But they could not sleep there.

"We changed hotels last year because our former hotel would not even do this," Beals said.

Muskie is to speak on the Federal Advisory Commission on Inter-Governmental Relations, of which he is a member.

Mrs. Dixon also sent similar telegrams to Maryland's two candidates for governor, the incumbent Democrat J. Millard Tawes and Republican Frank Small Jr. They also are scheduled to speak at the league.

Maryland Briefs

SALISBURY (AP) — Six Wicomico County youths, accused of firing a gun into some occupied homes in nearby Willards, have been charged with malicious destruction of property and assault with a deadly weapon.

No one was hurt in the shooting Monday night. State Police said Thursday three of those arrested were juveniles. The others were identified as Martin R. Vitelli, 19, of Pittsville; Melvin Lee Jones, 18, Salisbury, and Thomas E. Baker, 19, Willards.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Commission has ordered officials of two Dover, Del., radio stations to show cause at a hearing why their licenses should not be revoked, or why they should not be fined up to $10,000.

No date has been set for the hearing, which will be in Dover. The stations, WDOV and WDOV-FM are both operated by the Dover Broadcasting Co.

The commission said Wednesday it had evidence the stations violated commission rules by broadcasting commercial programs and commercial announcements during the Hurricane Esther emergency last Sept. 19.

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP)— An attempt to release a sodium vapor cloud high over the Eastern Seaboard failed Thursday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the second stage of a Nike Asp rocket carrying the sodium broke apart before the chemical could be ignited and released.

The failure cancelled plans for detonation of explosive grenades. Both experiments had been designed to measure density and wind velocity in the upper atmosphere.

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N.Y. (AP) — A wealthy bachelor, who escaped injury when his plane made a forced landing on Maryland's Eastern Shore three weeks ago, is going to throw a party to celebrate his escaping uninjured.

Perry Grant, 25, said the private plane came down on a field near Salisbury and was flown to the Salisbury airport about two hours later.

Grant said he got to thinking how lucky he was to be alive and "decided to have some close friends in to help me celebrate being alive." More than 800 guests will attend the barbecue and champagne cookout Sunday on Grant's sumptuous estate, with continuous dancing from two bands.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Martin Co. says it has developed a simplified gyroscope for the guidance system of the Bullpup missile which weighs 2½ pounds, has only 16 moving parts and costs 75 per cent less than formerly.

The Aerospace Division of the Martin Marietta Corp., which builds the Bullpup for the Air Force, also said Thursday it believes the new gyro could be adapted to a number of short-range missiles.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP) — The USS Limpkin, a 137-foot coastal minesweeper based at Norfolk, Va., will be the first U.S. Navy ship to enter the upper Chesapeake Bay in 16 years when she docks here Saturday.

The ship, with a crew of four officers and 40 enlisted men, will be open for inspection Saturday afternoon, Sunday morning and Monday afternoon. The Lions Club of Havre de Grace arranged the visit, with the help of the Bainbridge Naval Training Station, in connection with its sixth annual regatta on the Susquehanna River Sunday.

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)— Residents of three communities on Deale Island in Somerset County —Deale Island, Chance and Wenona — will vote Tuesday on whether to incorporate under a single municipal charter. An estimated 700 persons are eligible to vote.

Reds Kill Farmer

MANILA (UPI)—A Communist Huk liquidation squad kidnaped farmer Mariano Miranda 40 miles north of Manila and executed him Wednesday in belief he was an informer, the Manila Chronicle reported Thursday. It said Miranda's companion Evidencio Cudia escaped and gave the alarm and that 3,000 constabulary police were seeking the killers.

Deception May Prove Costly

BALTIMORE (AP) — U.S. District Judge Edward S. Northrop was considering Thursday fines up to $60,000 for the president of a fire protection system convicted of deceptive business practices.

A jury upheld 12 of 13 charges filed by the Federal Trade Commission against Howard Grant.

The commission charged that Grant had broken a 1958 order to cease certain operations in sales of the fire protection system to home owners in Silver Spring, Md., Alexandria, Va., and the District of Columbia.

Judge Northrop may fine Grant a maximum of $5,000 on each charge.

Eight buyers testified salesmen entered their homes by alleging they were fire officials or demonstrators of the latest equipment.

They testified the salesmen told them they had been selected to have the equipment and were promised commissions for referring friends to the demonstrators.

They also said the company withheld sales taxes from any commissions.

Couple Killed In Truck Crash

BEL AIR, Md. (AP) — Francis Nipper, 38, and his 41-year-old wife, Julia, were killed Thursday when the pickup truck in which they were riding collided with a tractor-trailer on U.S. 40 near the grounds of the Bata Shoe Co.

State Police said Mrs. Nipper was driving to work at the shoe plant. The driver of the pickup truck, John C. Monk, 49, suffered cuts and bruises and was taken to Harford Memorial Hospital in Havre de Grace.

The driver and the two victims were listed as residents of Bel Ai—r.

Convicted Slayer Moves For New Trial

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — Arguments will be heard in Dorchester County circuit court June 19 on motions for a new trial for James O. Tull, 29, of Tyaskin, convicted of first-degree murder.

A jury returned a guilty verdict for Tull Wednesday after having deliberated less than one hour on the evidence presented in the fatal beating of his wife, Marie, 23, last Sept. 25.

The jury verdict commented that the panel believed Tull to be sane at the time of the murder. Several state psychiatrists had presented conflicting testimony during the trial as to the defendant's sanity.

Tull is also under indictment in the death of his father-in-law, Paran Dashiell, who was shot to death the same day Mrs. Tull was killed.

Opening lead: Queen of ♦

The bidding will pass muster. South was fractionally short of the 22 points required for a two no trump opening, so he started off with one club and then jumped to three no trump over North's one diamond response. North with 11 gilt edged points was close to making a direct slam commitment on his own, since he could account for an assured partnership total of 32 high card points. However, he contented himself with a raise to five no trump, an invitation that South was quick to accept.

West opened the queen of diamonds against the no trump slam, and declarer saw that he could count 12 top tricks provided clubs broke in the expected manner. Accordingly, he won the first trick with the king of diamonds and began to work on the club suit by playing over to dummy's ace. When West followed with the jack of clubs, declarer paused momentarily to review matters.

If clubs were to break badly, then it would be necessary to find the 12th trick from another source, and spades offered the most reasonable hope. As a preliminary measure he decided that it might be wise to test spades first before the opponents had their forces fully organized.

The ten of spades was led from the dummy, and, under the impression that declarer was about to take a finesse, East chose to cover with the queen. South put up the ace and then switched his attention back to the clubs by cashing the king and queen, and then giving East his club trick. West in the meantime had discarded a heart, a spade and a diamond. A diamond came back and West's ten forced the ace from dummy.

Declarer now prepared to put the pressure on his left hand opponent, whom he had decided to play for the missing jack of spades as well as the jack of diamonds he was known to have. South cashed his established club on which West was able to throw a small heart. However, when the three high hearts were played off, ending in dummy, West was unable to protect himself. He threw a spade and kept the jack of diamonds to cover the dummy's nine. South led a spade to the king dropping West's jack and the nine of spades took the last trick.

Barton Man Hurt In Crash

A Barton man was hospitalized yesterday with injuries suffered when his car smashed into a tractor-trailer rig of the C&P Telephone Company on State Route 36 near Gilmore.

Admitted to Miners Hospital, Frostburg, was William H. Moore, 24, whose car was demolished in the smashup. Attaches said Moore suffered a dislocated right hip, a fracture of the hip socket, lacerations of the face, right arm and right leg, and contusions. His condition is considered "satisfactory."

Trooper R. W. Andrews, who investigated, said Moore was traveling north on Route 36 when his car crossed the center of the highway and hit the phone company rig practically headon.

The driver of the tractor-trailer, R. G. Stewart, LaVale, and Elvin J. Persons, another C&P employe, who was riding in the rig, escaped injury in the accident.

The accident occurred shortly after 7 a. m., Trooper Andrews said.

WASHED OUT—Three-year-old Todd Thompson points to the automatic washer which took him for a five-minute, water-logged spin at Arlington, Va. While Todd was on an inspection tour inside the coin-operated machine, his sister Theresa, at left, inadvertently closed the door and the washer started pumping water and spinning. The sister brought the mother, Mrs. Jo Anne Thompson, who opened the door and pulled Todd to more stable and drier ground. The youngster suffered only bumps and bruises during the spin bath. NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's upheavals almost certainly will result in a different way of life for investors over months, perhaps even years to come.

So says the brokerage firm, Shields & Co., in an analysis of the results of last week's action and the future.

"Now that the records have been smashed and the tattered ghost of 1929 has been given an airing, maybe it's time to get back to the more basic and enduring things," it comments.

Why, for example, do people buy common stocks? Shields asks.

The reply may be that they do so because they feel, at a certain level, stocks are a bargain, or that they hope to profit from positive developments in the future.

"A bargain? Relative to what?" Shields inquires. "Are there not forces working against the prospect for profits? Just which way do the scales tip?"

One aspect of this dilemma is that there exists, temporarily at least, no real framework of reference for the measurement of price, the firm says.

There is little credibility built into the market right now because investors who were easy believers not long ago have become greatly skeptical, according to Shields.

Delegation Leaves

TOKYO (UPI)—A Chinese Communist delegation left Peiping Wednesday for Moscow ot attend the 12th meeting of the Sino-Soviet committee for scientific and technical cooperation, the Communist New China news agency reported Thursday.

Food Price Index Remains Unchanged

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index, were unchanged this week, the statistical agency reported Wednesday.

The agency reported the index at $5.74 on June 5, unchanged from the previous week but 3.1 per cent below the $5.92 in the same week last year.

Measuring the total wholesale price per pound of 31 basic foods in general use, the index showed 6 advances, 10 declines and 15 prices unchanged from the previous week.

Wheat, rye, beef, sugar, potatoes and hogs advanced while corn, oats, lard, cheese, milk, cottonseed oil, coca, eggs and steers declined.

"Substantial" Unemployment List Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Labor Department Wednesday removed eight major industrial centers from the list of areas with "substantial" unemployment.

It said that joblessness decreased in more than 90 per cent of the nation's biggest 150 labor market areas this spring.

According to the department, the outlook is for continued improvement during the next few months although cutbacks in auto, steel and machinery plants may lead to rising unemployment in some paces.

The eight areas shifted out of the "substantial unemployment" category were Baltimore; Louisville; Portland, Ore.; Asheville, N.C.; Baton Rouge, La.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Mobile, Ala.; and Paterson-Clifton-Passaic, N.J.

The term "substantial unemployment" means 6 per cent of the work force is jobless.

Four other areas were transferred from a group denoting moderate jobless rates to another category indicating unemployment of 3 per cent or less. They were Columbus, Ohio; Lancaster, Pa.; Greensboro - High Point, N.C.; and Newport News-Hampton Va.

Atlantic City, N.J.; Brockton, Mass.; Erie, Pa.; and Lowell, Mass., were also shifted to show an improvement in job conditions, the department said.

The changes brought the number of areas on the so-called distressed list to 54. This was the lowest total since November, 1960.

Alliance For Progress Caught Between Right And Left

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

MEXICO CITY (AP)—"You are fostering leftist revolution."

"You are abandoning those who were your strong friends in order to court the leftists."

"You are inviting us politely into your home to commit suicide."

On the left the complaints go this way:

"The State Department is taking us over on a pretext of idealism."

"The Yankees are using the Alliance for Progress to usurp our sovereignty."

"The Yankees are talking about reform, but they don't mean it. In the long run, the money will go again to the ricos (rich men)."

Governments, and alliance itself, are in the middle between the two pressures. The general atmosphere throughout the continent has a look of confusion. Few attempt to define just what is the U.S. goal, what it is trying to do.

Is the United States really demanding reforms before help, or just a show of willingness for reform? Does it really, on the other hand, shore up shaky governments regardless of whether there are reforms? It attempted to do so in Argentina. Is the U.S. aim in Latin America democracy? What kind? Much of Latin America is far from equipped with the U.S. brand.

If the aim is democracy, what about dictatorial governments like those of Paraguay, or Haiti? What about governments which are threatened by military dictatorship? What about governments leaning far to the left, like Bolivia?

These are only some of the worried questions being asked about the Alliance for Progress.

Basically, the immediate danger in Latin America is not so much the threat of Communists, Castroists and military coups as it is a threat of internal collapse. The threat is real in Argentina, Brazil, Venezuela and other countries.

The alliance was supposed to stimulate private investment in the future of Latin America. But private investment has leveled off, and in some cases fallen off.

Has the alliance already bogged down? What's it done to date?

In Argentina, the answer is: virtually nothing. The disturbed political and economic condition of the country is a principal reason.

In Chile the United States recently promised an $80-million loan for 1962, plus up to $40 million worth of surplus commodities, though it is doubtful Chile could absorb nearly that much of the latter. As for the $80 million, nothing has happened yet, even though it's supposed to be a priority basis.

Ecuador shows strong resistance to such things as land and tax reform, even though there are expressions of willingness at government level. Little has been done so far by the alliance in Ecuador. Even a program to provide schools seems unrealistic, since the government could not scrape up money enough to staff the buildings with teachers.

These are only a few of the complaints. There are many, on both the Latin and the U.S. side.

Regarding land and tax reforms, in most countries there is little optimism. Rich men don't pay taxes. Rich men don't want to give up their lands.

Latin American nations have many problems in common: the problem of huge landowners controlling the arable land, problems of miserably inadequate housing, extremes of very rich and very poor, lack of skills among the population, lack of initiative, histories of violent politics, one-crop economies, swift population growth outstripping economic advance, and the heritage of Spain and Portugal.

But at the same time Latin America represents 20 different problems, too. There is a growing tendency on the part of some Americans concerned with the Alliance for Progress to support the idea of setting up showcase development in just a few countries, to demonstrate what might be done all over the continent.

At first, these sources supported the idea of pilot programs in the important ABC countries—Argentina, Brazil and Chile. Now, with the chaotic state of Argentina and the perilous situation of Brazil, there is growing sentiment for a showcase program for more secure countries like Chile and Colombia.

Each country, say these sources, requires a different approach. Each Latin country requires separate study. All this takes time, and there will be no overnight miracles.

Latin America for centuries has suffered from the habit of "manana"—putting off for tomorrow what should be done today. Now, suddenly, many Latins, having noted the promises of the Alliance for Progress, seem to want to turn manana into yesterday.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I know you must work hard writing your column which appears seven days a week. Do you ever wonder if you are getting through to people? Well, I'm the mother of four children, and I'd like to tell you what your column has done for our family. It has provided us with new ground rules to live by. Here are just a few:

1. B.A.L. (Before Ann Landers) everyone in the house used to open up every bit of mail regardless of the name on the envelope. You put a stop to this practice.

2. Our relatives used to drop in three times a week. Your column gave us the courage to ask them to please call first. Now when we have other plans we tell them, and we are no longer trapped in our own home by unexpected company. (And, incidentally, they are over here much less often, which suits us fine.)

3. Our 15-year-old daughter told us three months ago that she is not going to smoke no matter what the rest of the crowd does because, "Ann Landers says it is a filthy, stupid, expensive, unattractive habit which doesn't do one thing for anybody."

4. My husband used to go on "silent spells" when something bothered him. He learned from Ann Landers the wisdom of talking things out. You may have saved him from an ulcer.

5. I used to nag my husband endlessly about hanging up his clothes and putting things in their proper place. Your column taught me that it takes less energy to do these things myself. You may have saved me from an ulcer.

6. I don't know whether I should kiss you or kill you for this one, Ann — but now I'm ironing the bedsheets.—TRUE BELIEVERS

Dear Believers: Thanks for a marvelous letter. You've made my day.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have a lovely home and we entertain fairly often. We enjoy company and it's no strain for me to have a dinner party for 12 or 14. When the weather is good we have had as many as 30 for a barbecue.

Many people we have entertained have never invited us back. There are five or six couples we've had to dinner at least a half dozen times. I know for a fact that they have had parties and not included us. Yet, whenever I invite them they are Johnny-on-the-spot.

My husband says if they didn't care for us they wouldn't accept our invitations. But why don't they invite us back? Am I petty?
—EX-CLUDED

Dear Ex: Some people like you well enough to go to YOUR parties, but not quite well enough to invite you to theirs.

If you've learned who these people are, wise up and take them off your guest list.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 15 and trying hard to learn good manners. When I meet a person for the first time I feel foolish saying "How do you do" because this phrase has no meaning. I think, "Pleased to meet you" is better. My girl friend says it's corny. After a person says, "Pleased to meet you," I find myself saying "Same here" and I feel like a sap. But what else is there to say?

Maybe something is wrong with me but I dread meeting new people because I'm uncomfortable about such things. Can you help me or am I beyond hope?
—MUSHMOUTH

Dear Mushmouth: Nothing is wrong with "How do you do" but if it seems foolish to you, by all means say something else, such as "I'm happy to meet you." I agree with your girl friend about "Pleased to meet you." It's corn ball and more often than not it comes out "Pleezedtameetcha."

"Same here" suggests a bankrupt vocabulary. It's far better to say "I'm happy to have met you, too." And if you will add the person's name to whatever phrase you use, it always sound better.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm almost ashamed to write about this even though you may tell me I'm childish.

My mother died several months ago following a long illness. At this moment I have in my closet several dresses and suits which I wore when I visited my mother in the hospital and when I cared for her at home. The dress I wore to her funeral is also hanging there.

I can't bring myself to wear any of these clothes although they are stylish and in excellent condition. I've started to give them away but I can't seem to do this either. So I can neither wear them nor can I part with them. Please help me.—S. P. F.

Dear S. P. F.: I can't help you, but you can help yourself and you must. Go to the telephone this very minute and call Good Will Industries. Give them all the clothing to which you attach mother-memories. Consider it an act of charity.

It's unhealthy to hang on to bits and pieces of the past as you are doing. This is not reverence, it's morbidity.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experience of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Two Appointed To New Positions At Luke Mill

Promotion of William M. Thompson and Robert A. Powers to two newly-created positions at the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company was announced yesterday by John A. Luke, manager of the company's Fine Papers Division.

Luke said the positions of Luke mill manager and assistant manager, production, are being eliminated and the newly created positions are those of Luke mill production manager and administration manager. Both will be responsible to the division manager.

Thompson, who has been assistant manager, production, at Luke since November, 1957, is being promoted to production manager. Powers, division product administration manager since May 1961, is being promoted to manager of the administration department. His duties will be in addition to those of product administration.

The office of division manager, Luke said in making the announcement, will be moved to New York this summer so he can devote more time to his other divisional responsibilities including marketing and the operations of the pulp and paper mills at Mechanicville, N. Y., and Tyrone and Williamsburg, Pa., and somewhat less to the day-to-day operations at Luke.

Luke, however, will continue to maintain an office at the Luke mill, largest of the four in the division, because of its great importance to both the division and the company and his keen interest in it, and for frequent use in working with the personnel located there who are directly responsible to him. He pointed out, however, that direct responsibility for the operational aspects of the mill will lie with Thompson and that direct responsibility for the administrative functions will lie with Powers.

Thompson, in addition to his operational responsibilities, also will have direct responsibility for personnel and local community relations. In addition to his duties as manager of the division's product administration department, Powers will have direct responsibility for Luke mill administration, including accounting, purchasing and traffic, and commercial analysis functions.

The changes became necessary, Luke said, in order to achieve more organizational balance as the basis for more effective operations.

Promotion of Thompson and Powers helps to round out a new division organizational framework which includes several other functions already responsible to the division manager. They include L. D. Peterson, Luke, wood procurement manager; Walter D. McVicar, New York, formerly of Luke, new product manager; Donald E. Hillenbrand, New York, sales manager; Melvin L. McCreary, New York, technical sales service manager; George N. Hoover, manager of the Mechanicville, N. Y., mill, and J. Lynne Ferner, manager of the Tyrone, and Williamsburg mills.

Thompson, a native of Keyser, has been associated with West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company since December, 1945 when he joined the research department as a chemical engineer. Subsequently he was assigned to the Industrial Chemical Sales Division at the Luke and Covington, Va., mills and later was transferred to the Luke mill as a chemical engineer for two years.

He returned to the research department in 1952 and was placed in charge of the experimental coater project. Upon completion and design of the experimental coater, Thompson was promoted to technical service superintendent at the Luke mill, the position he held until April, 1957 when he was promoted to general superintendent in charge of operations.

Before joining West Virginia, Thompson was a member of the staff of the Petrochemical Development Division of the Celanese Corporation of America from 1940 until 1945, and worked at the Amcelle plant near Cumberland as well as at the Corpus Christi, Texas, plant. Prior to that he worked for a short time with the Gulf Oil Corporation at Brooklyn, N. Y.

He is a son of Mrs. Olie Thompson, James Street, Keyser, and the late M. E. Thompson. After graduating from Keyser High School, he attended Potomac State College for two years and then transferred to West Virginia University where he received a bachelor of science degree as well as a master's degree in chemical engineering.

He and Mrs. Thompson, the former Mabel Lyons of Piedmont, live on Horse Rock Hill, Westernport. They have a daughter, Sara Joy, 6.

Powers has been associated with the paper company since 1956 when he joined the staff of the Mechanicville mill as a financial analyst. After being transferred to the Luke mill he was named product mix coordinator of the Fine Papers Division in September, 1958. In August, 1960 he assumed the added responsibilities of general direction of the order and scheduling department at Luke and handling the day-to-day communications between the sales department and the Luke mill.

Upon his promotion to product administration manager in May, 1961, Powers was given responsibility for Chicago and New York sales administrative services groups and the warehousing and inventory unit at Luke. He also assumed responsibility at that time for operation of the order departments at the four division mills, all order and scheduling functions, attendant communications facilities and procedures, inventory and warehousing, and administration of the grade mix program defining the general sales objectives by grade of paper and assigning manufacturing responsibility by grade to one of the four mills.

Two Appointed To New Positions At Luke Mill

Promotion of William M. Thompson and Robert A. Powers to two newly-created positions at the Luke mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company was announced yesterday by John A. Luke, manager of the company's Fine Papers Division.

Luke said the positions of Luke mill manager and assistant manager, production, are being eliminated and the newly created positions are those of Luke mill production manager and administration manager. Both will be responsible to the division manager.

Thompson, who has been assistant manager, production, at Luke since November, 1957, is being promoted to production manager. Powers, division product administration manager since May 1961, is being promoted to manager of the administration department. His duties will be in addition to those of product administration.

The office of division manager, Luke said in making the announcement, will be moved to New York this summer so he can devote more time to his other divisional responsibilities including marketing and the operations of the pulp and paper mills at Mechanicville, N. Y., and Tyrone and Williamsburg, Pa., and somewhat less to the day-to-day operations at Luke.

Luke, however, will continue to maintain an office at the Luke mill, largest of the four in the division, because of its great importance to both the division and the company and his keen interest in it, and for frequent use in working with the personnel located there who are directly responsible to him. He pointed out, however, that direct responsibility for the operational aspects of the mill will lie with Thompson and that direct responsibility for the administrative functions will lie with Powers.

Thompson, in addition to his operational responsibilities, also will have direct responsibility for personnel and local community relations. In addition to his duties as manager of the division's product administration department. Powers will have direct responsibility for Luke mill administration, including accounting, purchasing and traffic, and commercial analysis functions.

The changes became necessary, Luke said, in order to achieve more organizational balance as the basis for more effective operations.

Promotion of Thompson and Powers helps to round out a new division organizational framework which includes several other functions already responsible to the division manager. They include L. D. Peterson, Luke, wood procurement manager; Walter D. McVicar, New York, formerly of Luke, new product manager; Donald E. Hillenbrand, New York, sales manager; Melvin L. McCreary, New York, technical sales service manager; George N. Hoover, manager of the Mechanicville, N. Y., mill, and J. Lynne Ferner, manager of the Tyrone, and Williamsburg mills.

Thompson, a native of Keyser, has been associated with West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company since December, 1945 when he joined the research department as a chemical engineer. Subsequently he was assigned to the Industrial Chemical Sales Division at the Luke and Covington, Va., mills and later was transferred to the Luke mill as a chemical engineer for two years.

He returned to the research department in 1952 and was placed in charge of the experimental coater project. Upon completion and design of the experimental coater, Thompson was promoted to technical service superintendent at the Luke mill, the position he held until April, 1957 when he was promoted to general superintendent in charge of operations.

Before joining West Virginia, Thompson was a member of the staff of the Petrochemical Development Division of the Celanese Corporation of America from 1940 until 1945, and worked at the Amcelle plant near Cumberland as well as at the Corpus Christi, Texas, plant. Prior to that he worked for a short time with the Gulf Oil Corporation at Brooklyn, N. Y.

He is a son of Mrs. Olie Thompson, James Street, Keyser, and the late M. E. Thompson. After graduating from Keyser High School, he attended Potomac State College for two years and then transferred to West Virginia University where he received a bachelor of science degree as well as a master's degree in chemical engineering.

He and Mrs. Thompson, the former Mabel Lyons of Piedmont, live on Horse Rock Hill, Westernport. They have a daughter, Sara Joy, 6.

Powers has been associated with the paper company since 1956 when he joined the staff of the Mechanicville mill as a financial anglyst. After being transferred to the Luke mill he was named product mix coordinator of the Fine Papers Division in September, 1958. In August, 1960 he assumed the added responsibilities of general direction of the order and scheduling department at Luke and handling the day-to-day communications between the sales department and the Luke mill.

Upon his promotion to product administration manager in May, 1961, Powers was given responsibility for Chicago and New York sales administrative services groups and the warehousing and inventory unit at Luke. He also assumed responsibility at that time for operation of the order departments at the four division mills, all order and scheduling functions, attendant communications facilities and procedures, inventory and warehousing, and administration of the grade mix program defining the general sales objectives by grade of paper and assigning manufacturing responsibility by grade to one of the four mills.

Before joining West Virginia, Powers worked with firms in New York City and Hartford, Conn., as an investment analyst.

A native of Cohoes, N. Y., Powers is a graduate of the University of Vermont with a bachelor of science degree in business administration and also attended New York University where he specialized in finance. He is a veteran of both World War 2 and the Korean War, serving last as a lieutenant in Army aviation.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers live on Horse Rock Hill, Westernport. They have two daughters, Susan, 7, and Barbara, 4, and a son, Steven, 6.

Luke became manager of the Luke mill in 1955 and was promoted to manager of the Fine Papers Division in 1960 when the company was organized on a division basis. He subsequently was elected to the company's board of directors.

A native of Tyrone, Luke is a graduate of Yale University. He joined the company at the Charleston, S. C., mill after serving in the Air Force during World War II and was assistant manager, administration, there when he was named manager of the Luke mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke have four children, John Jr., 13; Hope 11; Jane, 8, and William, 6. They live on Horse Rock Hill, Westernport.

College Again Seeks TV Facilities

A regional education television studio at State Teachers College, Frostburg, has been proposed again by R. Bowen Hardesty, college president, in his 10-year projection report to the state planning commission of the Maryland State Board of Trustees.

The cost, Hardesty said would be $150,000, an amount that twice was struck from previous budget proposals for the college.

Intended use of the television studio is to accommodate the campus or serve the public schools of the Western Maryland area.

Reasoning that television teaching is gaining momentum as a supplement to classroom teaching, President Hardesty said that the interest of the college has not come suddenly with the state's idea of television for all counties and Baltimore, but that it has been a consistent interest for the last six years.

The Frostburg college six years ago co-explored the possibility of a cooperative arrangement with the Washington County Board of Education between a teacher training institution and a public school system.

"Cable transmission then was found to be too expensive, President Hardesty commented, "but the Ford Foundation did commit itself to furnishing TV personnel."

The college since has explored the possibility of beaming the program via Dan's Mountain, and it was concluded that tape recordings with closed circuit on campus would be most practical. Conduits have been installed in both Compton Hall Auditorium and Thomas G. Pullen Laboratory School.

The president added that faculty members skilled in television education have been employed.

Steger Will Attend Extension Course

Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, will go to Fort Collins, Colo., to attend a three-week extension course at the University of Colorado starting June 18.

Steger will drive to Colorado and take his family for the three-week stay.

Foresters End Training Period In Garrett County

A three-day forest training session of personnel of the State Department of Forests and Parks concluded yesterday at Herrington Manor in Garrett County.

The conference was presided over by William H. Johnson, state forest control leader for the agency. He is a former district forester here.

H. C. Buckingham, state forester, spoke on administrative matters to the 110 persons attending.

Volcano Active

MANILA (UPI)—The 5,000-foot Bulusan volcano, long believed extinct, has begun belching smoke and lava from its five craters, the Philippines News Service reported Thursday. The volcano is 254 miles northeast of Manila. It last erupted in 1928.

Charles Burke, of the state comptroller's office, spoke on Social Security coverage for personnel of the department.

Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale State Police Barracks, spoke on cooperation with the forestry personnel in setting up road blocks during times of emergency.

Capt. Frank Kaul of the Second Army headquarters at Fort Meade and Robert Creughan of the Maryland Civil Defense system, spoke on radiological equipment and its uses. They were assisted by William Chenowith, also of the state CD system.

The three men used equipment for testing radiological problems in the field and the forestry personnel took part in this test.

The new radio equipment in use by the forestry agency was demonstrated and a simulated forest fire was used in testing some new equipment and items which have been used in the past were also utilized in the fire prevention test.

Dr. John Schreiner of the U.S. Forestry Service, also spoke on fire prevention procedures.

Nuclear Tests And World Health

Within the boundaries of present knowledge, the Federal Radiation Council's report supports those scientists who believe nuclear tests, as conducted to date, will have small effect on human health — considerably less than the natural radiation to which man is exposed.

The report nevertheless admits the inability to measure accurately the biological effects of low-level fallout, and concedes that information which has been gathered is subject to widely different interpretation.

Thus, one group may choose to consider the possible extent of damage to an individual; another the overall effects on a whole population. The overriding consideration, of course, is the greater good for the greater number in building a defense against oppression.

Unfortunately, our limited knowledge precludes incontrovertible conclusions. The decision to stage the present series of tests was reached by President Kennedy after weighing the radiation report on past tests against an evaluation of weaponry progress achieved by the Russians in their series last fall.

Our own tests are now measuring the effects of nuclear bursts on radar and communications, defense elements vital to survival as well as to retaliation. Nevertheless, the U. S. is ready, as President Kennedy repeatedly has stated — and President Eisenhower stated before him — to cease testing the moment the Soviets agree to a policed moratorium.

That possibility undoubtedly will remain slim. It would rule out a Moscow double-cross in the future.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Woman I Love

When King Edward VIII of Great Britain, etc., resigned his post to marry an American woman from Baltimore, Maryland, there were those who said that such a marriage would fail; that the Duke would regret his act. Twenty-five years have now passed and the Duke and Duchess are still husband and wife. This marriage has not failed.

The Duke and Duchess usually live in France, but they come to this country once each year for about a month. Most of their time is spent in New York where they have many friends. They are a cheerful pair, who have no side to them, as the expression goes. Of course, there are Americans who thrill at meeting royalty.

But when all that is done, one finds the Duke of Windsor a well-informed man who has a sharp nose for the nuances of public affairs. He is in these parts so often that, in many ways, he has become one of us and is undoubtedly an excellent ambassador from the United States to Europe.

There are very few kings left in the world. The beautiful feudal conception of noblesse oblige is one of the qualities which we have lost in our ascent to freedom. Also, in our civilization, where there are two types of aristocracy, the lesser one, based on brains and the more numerous one, based on wealth, too often inherited from a rough-neck, self-made ancestor, the characteristics of an aristocracy based on ancestry are hardly understood.

Many of the so-called European refugees who go by all sorts of feudal titles are not far removed from the fringes of ancient families who, in the thousand years of feudalism, were permitted to hold a spear and were rewarded with some ownership of land. The great families of Europe were few. Others, who ply various trades and give the impression that they have come down in the world, have, in reality, been elevated by being permitted to live in this country where they can earn a living of one kind or another and are often invited to dinner for their titles.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are, of course, not of this breed. They lend tone and add zest to the waning society of New York and the Duke gets to know what is going on. He likes to meet people and has a flair for understanding.

It is none of our business how the British treat the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. But 25 years is a long time to get over a disappointment or an anger and most Americans like a marriage that lasts and a couple who find happiness.

I first saw the Duke when he was Prince of Wales and visited Japan. Since those merry years, much has happened to everybody's life. I saw him and his lady a few days ago and as we spoke, I could not help feeling that the years have really been kind to this man and that he has found a happiness in marriage which he could not have found as a king. For there is this about one who does not like to take advantage of his position: it must be very trying to have to toe a ministerial line and not speak up for himself. This is nowadays required of a king or queen.

The Duke is an extraordinarily attractive person and he and the Duchess make a charming pair. They are not regal, in the motion picture sense and one does not imagine anyone playing, "Pomp and Circumstance," as they enter a room. They are a comfortable middle-aged couple, who, having been married to each other for a quarter of a century, obviously like the estate. Perhaps it is thus establishable that the "Woman I love," is worth a throne. At any rate, there seem to be no regrets.

Americans are not a vengeful people who can remain angry very long. To most of us, it is a bit surprising that the British people do not ask the Duke and Duchess to come to London to celebrate their silver wedding. After all, London is home to them.

No one has lost anything or suffered in any way because the Duke married the Duchess 25 years ago. He had, before that, travelled the world to make Great Britain better liked. He was regarded as Great Britain's best salesman. Then the Duke spoke up like a man about some coal miners and all the vested interests came down on him. There were other instances of independence.

So, the politicians used the excuse of his marriage to exile him. Well, they had their way and most of those who badgered him are now dead and gone. He lives and his Duchess lives and the kind thing to do is to forget the old angers and to have a good, old family reunion of the House of Windsor. How can nations live in peace, if great families continue feuds?

'Somehow, My Old One Feels Best'

Soviet Citizens May Face Another Crackdown

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

It is becoming clearer and clearer that the West ought to take another hard, new look at the strength and weaknesses of the Soviet economy.

For a very long time—until the first Sputnik, in fact—the productivity and technical proficiency of the Soviet system were grossly underestimated by most people in the West. But we have now been told, by Nikita S. Krushchev in person, that we replaced this gross underestimate by a considerable overestimate.

This Western overestimate of Soviet capabilities is easy enough to explain. On the one hand, the Sputnik proved that Soviet technology was every bit as advanced as American technology, at least in certain fields. It thereby made nonsense of what may be called the clumsy moujik theory of Soviet economy, which was even preached, pre-Sputnik, by a few of the leading Western experts on the Soviet Union.

On the other hand, and even more important, the rude awakening of the Sputnik called Western attention to the very high Soviet rate of economic growth. Because of this rate of growth, the Soviet leaders appear to be able to offer the Russian people a modest but continuous (and therefore satisfying) improvement in their level of life, while simultaneously financing the most massive military and basic industrial investment. The high rate of basic investment in turn seemed to assure the continued rapid economic growth.

Khrushchev himself rather clearly believed, at one time, in this theory of the limitless upward spiral. But he knows better now. The proof is his guns-before-butter speech on Saturday, asking the Soviet workers to accept the steep increase in the prices of meat and dairy products.

In this speech, Khrushchev said in effect that the farmers had to be paid more, in order to induce them to produce more meat. But the farmers could not be paid more, by reducing basic industrial investment or cutting defense spending, which has in fact been heavily increased. Therefore, the Soviet masses would have to foot the bill, even if this meant a quite meaningful drop in their level of life.

What is implied in this Khrushchev argument is a fairly violent renewal of the classic Soviet conflict between types of investment. Despite its high growth rate, the Soviet economy is once again unable to meet the investment need of both the military-heavy-industrial sector and the agricultural-and-consumer sector of the economy

Although the theory of the Soviets' limitless upward spiral promised that there would always be enough to go around, Krushchev has now told us that there is nothing like enough. He has also told us that the Soviet leadership, as always in the past, has once again given priority to the military-heavy-industrial sector. Here, investments are not being skimped.

But this calls into question another recently fashionable Western theory about the Soviet Union—that the closed Soviet society is bound to become more and more open, free, and even bourgeois, as the rising Soviet living standard comes closer and closer to the American or Western living standard. Adlai E. Stevenson plotted out a version of this theory in a speech made only a day or so after Krushchev spoke.

The price rises in meat and dairy products, and the increasingly uncomfortable Soviet shortages of all other foodstuffs except bread itself, mean that the Soviet living standard is not rising. For the Russian laboring masses, food still means much more than such costly consumer goods as television sets. The year when the Soviet masses had eaten best was 1959. Since then the standard has declined rather sharply.

This decline has occurred, moreover, against a background of repeated promises by Khrushchev and his colleagues that everything was going to get better and better, that the U. S. would soon be "overtaken" and so on and on. In the Khrushchev era, the Soviet Union has become what is now called "a society of rising expectations." But will this "society of rising expectations" cheerfully tolerate the disappointment of its expectations?

The answer is, of course, that the disappointment will be tolerated, but not cheerfully tolerated. In his speech on the food price rises, Khrushchev remarked grimly: "Those who do not wish to understand should be called to order."

No student of the Soviet agricultural problem believes that the problem is going to be solved by the jerry-built expedients now being atempted, which largely depend on the use of bureaucrats as a substitute for fertilizer. If many persons "do not wish to understand," the "calling to order" will have to begin.

Stalin's terror can hardly be revived after Stalin's reburial. But it is not impossible that the Russian people will again experience one of those abrupt increases of police control and shrinkages of freedom which have occurred so often in the melancholy Russian past.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

POLITICS USUALLY WINS — Whenever the urgencies of politics and legislation conflict, politics usually wins out. When the Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted 8 to 7 to cut aid to India by 25 per cent, one of the absent senators was Alexander Wiley, who can usually be counted on to support foreign programs.

Although a Republican, Wiley has had a long record in favor of internationalism and has supported foreign aid in the past. Wiley is counted on by President Kennedy to support foreign aid and similar measures.

However, when that crucial committee vote was taken, Wiley was back in his native Wisconsin doing some political campaigning. Kennedy may have been concerned about his absence, but there was little he could say about it.

The fact is that Kennedy himself was in the same state at the same time for the same reason. He was there to help the political campaign of Gov. Gaylord Nelson who will be running against Wiley for the Senate next November.

Down Texas way, some people are wondering about Heller's value as a presidential adviser on economics when he can be taken in this fashion.

While the names are almost identical, the fact is that they are two different—and unrelated—Hellers. Kennedy's Heller explains that his middle initial is "W" and he's thinking of changing his name to W. Wolfgang Heller.

Insurance Companies Not Obligated To Pay Plane Bomber's Survivors

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Bombing an airplane to collect insurance doesn't pay. Those cold-blooded and fiendish enough to take other people's lives for the purpose of collecting insurance for their families or themselves, don't seem to know this, which apparently is why there have been so many bombings of passenger planes.

But along with their cold-blooded plotting against the lives of innocent people they should consider the fact that insurance companies are not obligated to pay off the bomber or his beneficiaries when a plane is bombed and furthermore the bomb always leaves telltale evidence behind.

Structure distortion, the odor of cordite, black smudges and the residue of shrapnel always point to the work of a bomb. As a result not one insurance company has ever paid off. Furthermore all the bombers are now either dead or in prison.

The Score

Here is the record:

Nov. 1, 1955, at Longmont, Colo. — Bomb exploded on United Airlines en route New York to Seattle, 44 killed. John Gilbert Graham convicted, and died in the gas chamber for having placed a bomb in the baggage compartment in an effort to kill his mother and claim her $250,000 estate. He took out $37,500 worth of life insurance on his mother. The insurance was not paid.

July 25, 1957, at Daggett, Calif. —Saul F. Binstock, carrying $125,000 insurance, blew himself out of the lavatory of Western Airlines en route Las Vegas to Los Angeles. The insurance was not paid. The plane landed at George Air Force Base with no injuries to other passengers.

Jan. 6, 1960, at Bolivia, N. C. —34 persons killed when National Airlines crashed as the result of a bomb explosion in the passenger compartment which blew Julian Frank out of the plane 16 miles from where the wreckage came down. Frank was reportedly in business difficulties. He had taken out an $875,000 insurance policy favoring his wife a year prior to the accident. The insurance was not paid.

May 22, 1962, at Unionville, Mo. —45 dead in a Continental Airlines crash. A bomb had been placed underneath the wash basin. Thomas G. Doty of Miriam, Kans., took out a $375,000 life insurance policy. Geneva Fraley of Independence, Mo., is said to have had one for $75,000. The two were traveling together.

On Nov. 16, 1959, over the Gulf of Mexico, a National Airlines plane crashed, killing 42, believed to be the work of a bomber. The final report when it comes will list the cause as unknown. A National plane, a DC-7, en route from Miami to New Orleans, disappeared with no wreckage ever found, though some debris and bodies were recovered from the Gulf. The name of one passenger, Dr. Robert Vernon Spears, against whom criminal abortion charges are pending in Los Angeles, was on the passenger list, but Dr. Spears was later found in Phoenix, Ariz., driving a car belonging to a Mr. Taylor, who Spears admitted had taken his place on the flight. Spears has a long criminal record and was sentenced for taking Taylor's auto across state lines.

Apr. 17, 1950 — John Henry Grant placed an incendiary homemade bomb in family luggage aboard United Airlines DC-3 bound from Los Angeles to San Diego. The bomb smoked, and was discovered. Grant was sentenced from one to twenty years for attempted murder and failed in his attempt to collect the $25,000 insurance on his wife and two children, who were passengers.

That's the record. And the more people realize the facts in the record, the fewer attempts will be made to murder innocent people in the air.

Pentagon Squash Casualty

The big inter-service sports rivalry that the public hears about is the famous annual Army-Navy football game. But the sports rivalry the public doesn't hear about takes place in the Pentagon gymnasium between two top officials — Secretary of Defense Bob McNamara and Secretary of the Air Force Gene Zuckert.

They play squash, and there are no more determined, do-or-die, give-'em-hell squash players in the nation's capital then these two executives. When they play, woe be it to anyone who gets in their way— including themselves.

Secretary McNamara, aged 46, should have the edge over Secretary Zuckert, aged 50, but this is not the case. McNamara has never yet defeated Zuckert for a set.

Last week, however, he succeeded in putting Zuckert out of the running for the balance of this year. He fell on Zuckert's right ankle.

The Secretary of the Air Force has been in a cast ever since, his ankle broken. It was all accidental, of course, but it indicates how intense is the sports rivalry between top executives of the Defense Department.

Note — Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, who also plays squash, always loses to McNamara. Perhaps it's because he's been absorbed with the Billie Sol Estes case.

Race For Moon

Both American and Russian space scientists are planning to build a base on the moon's harsh, hostile surface. Asked about this lunar competition, a top U. S. space authority explained privately: "It reminds me of the freshmen in the Canadian north woods, who frantically began chopping firewood for the winter. Before chopping any more, one decided to check wtih a nearby Indian chief about the outlook for winter.

In other words, suggested the spaceman, the reason for much of the East-West rivalry is simply that the other side is doing it.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

How much is a miracle worth? A hundred? A thousand? Perhaps a million? Name a number. When a man with a stethoscope clamped around his neck runs his talented fingers over the feverish body of a baby, he is trying to perform a miracle. With God's assent, plus a store of knowledge and skill, plus a complexity of chemicals, he will make that infant well.

Is it your baby? How much is it worth to have your baby back? In the crisis, you would cheerfully sign away your home, your furniture, your car, your bank account in return for a guarantee that the baby will not die.

Still, when the child is healthy, and the bill arrives, you probably curse the doctor as a robber. Almost all people do. My father is one of the rare ones. He was in a hospital for two weeks recently. He was so close to the pearly gates that he has the imprint of the bars on his chest. The bill? About $750 for nurses; $250 for doctors; $300 for hospital.

He regards his miracle as a bargain at $1,300. But he hasn't got the money. His police pension and his social security, at age 78, are small. Still, he does not complain, even though he now realizes that doctors have been playing an ever growing part in his life for the past 20 years.

It is ironic that medical research has helped man to live 10 years longer, but no one gave him the means to take advantage of it. Old arteries and pumps and lungs are kept functioning long after their normal span, but the mind they nourish is apprehensive. Few people, even with good hospitalization policies, can afford to be ill for more than a few days.

The doctor is inclined to forget that he is a human being. He likes to think of himself as selfless, charitable, devoted to the poor. Collectively, he is nothing of the sort. He thinks of himself first, which is right and proper. He wants to earn a lot of money, drive a big car, own stocks, play golf, dress well and send his children to the best schools in the country. He does not want poor patients, and, when he is stuck with one, he often asks where the money is coming from before he consents to operate.

He sees the President's plan for Medical Care for the Aged as a step toward socialism. He calls it creeping socialism. It isn't, of course. It is charity. In fact, is is the finest kind of charity because it puts a small burden on the able-bodied to take care of our older people.

What the doctor really sees is a threat to his income. Until this moment, the American doctor has been living high. He has never had it so good. He can charge as much as the traffic will bear. This is not to say that he does, because there are plenty of doctors who try to tailor their fees to the patient's pocketbook.

Nor is this easy, or honest, because most patients, when questioned about ability to pay, will lie to the doctor about the family finances and try to make it appear that if the tonsillectomy comes to more than 10 dollars, the family will starve to death. Neither the patient nor the doctor is economically clean. They fence with oral scalpels.

In the last few years of my mother's life (diabetes, chronic heart failure) medicines averaged more than $12 a week. It would have been a lot more, except that Dr. Bernard Krull refused to take more than $2 for a housecall. He only took that so that my father could keep his pride.

There are about 17,000,000 Americans who are 65 years of age or more. Precious few of these are employed, and fewer are rich. The American Medical Association is not fighting Mr. Kennedy. It is fighting the old people. The tide is against the A.M.A., so much so that groups of their own membership have publicly denounced their attitude toward Medical Care for the Aged. Some lean so far in the opposite direction that they have sworn not to treat old people under the government plan.

It is embarrassing to find that the family doctor is a politician. His handouts of tracts, written in Chicago in the big A.M.A. building, advise patients to write to their congressmen and go on record as opposed to the pending bill. It is embarrassing to refuse to do so, and it hurts to say to a doctor: "Your high fees, your unnecessary surgery, have brought this upon you. And more will come unless you learn to live with us — the millions of people who need you."

How much is a miracle worth? I don't know. But I know how the first medical beatitude should read. It should say: "Let us help the helpless." . . .

New Preventive Boon For Migraine Suffers

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A new headache preventive may be a boon to those suffering from severe and frequent migraine. The product, methysergide, relieves the vascular changes in the brain that are responsible for the headache. Side reactions occur in one-third of the users but they are reported to be mild and to clear promptly when the drug is withdrawn.

Methysergide relieves distress within a day or two in those with prolonged bouts and the individual is comfortable so long as the medication is used. The beneficial effects disappear within 24 to 48 hours of its discontinuance. The immediate flare-up following cessation of therapy is a common occurrence when drugs of this nature are employed.

The common migraine attack is a periodic, throbbing pain, located usually on one side of the head. It frequently is preceded by a psychological disturbance and changes in vision such as blurring, zigzagging, or photophobia. Many develop nausea, vomiting, and irritability.

In women, the bouts may be associated with menstruation and they tend to diminish after the menopause. Headache may be precipitated by tension or the use of alcohol or chocolate.

The mechanism of the migraine headache is well known. The first step is spasm of the main artery to one side of the brain. This produces the pre-headache phenomena, including visual changes. The next step is relaxation of spasm with dilatation and distention of the branches of the artery. It is the distention that creates the throbbing, pounding headache.

Most of the modern remedies such as the ergot-caffeine group of drugs shrink the dilated vessel. Methysergide does the same. Time will tell whether the newcomer will prove to be as safe and practical as the older products.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on migraine if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

WHITE SPOTS

E. B. writes: Please enlighten me. Last year I developed white spots on the skin that did not tan with the rest of the face. With spring here, do you think I ought to stay out of the sun?

REPLY

This is vitiligo and the white spots are areas that have lost pigment. The sun accentuates the condition because the normal skin tans, making the contrast greater. The spots can be camouflaged with cosmetics. Tablets that stimulate skin pigment also are useful in some instances. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on vitiligo.

HAIR SHOTS

C. R. writes: Can shots be injected into the scalp to restore lost hair?

REPLY

Not for the hereditary male type baldness. Hydrocortisone is used occasionally for some forms of baldness (alopecia areata) but the results are not always successful. Hair grows only over the area where the steroid is injected; as a result, many shots are needed.

LUNG SPACE

R. P. writes: What happens to the cavity when a lung is removed? Does it fill up with something?

REPLY

The chest wall collapses somewhat and the lung on the other side shifts over to fill in most of the space. Serum fills the remaining space which ultimately is replaced by scar tissue.

PRESSURE DECREASE

J. D. writes: What would make the blood pressure go down 30 points in 10 minutes?

REPLY

Relaxation.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

Lon Tinkle noticed that a female neighbor of his in a fashionable suburb of Dallas had five brand new Lincoln Continentals — all cocoa colored — lined up in front of her door. "You didn't actually buy all these cars at one time?" gasped Tinkle. "Yes, I did, honey," said the neighbor. "My phone was out of order for a whole day and the man who runs the agency was dreamy about letting me use his. And when people are nice to you in a store — well, you can't just walk out without buying something!"

They say that one famous Broadway publicist is so nearsighted that when he spotted an apartment house roof covered with TV antennas, he cried out in a panic, "Hey, you crazy kids! Come down off that roof!"

Mrs. Glogauer, fat, fashionable, and fortyish, was about to give her first recital after years of arduous vocal lessons. The audience was large, if unenthusiastic, consisting of Mr. Glogauer's employes, who had been ordered to attend — or else.

"Oh," wailed the jittery Mrs. Glogauer, "if I only could learn what to do with my hands while I'm singing."

Nuclear Tests And World Health

Within the boundaries of present knowledge, the Federal Radiation Council's report supports those scientists who believe nuclear tests, as conducted to date, will have small effect on human health — considerably less than the natural radiation to which man is exposed.

The report nevertheless admits the inability to measure accurately the biological effects of low-level fallout, and concedes that information which has been gathered is subject to widely different interpretation.

Thus, one group may choose to consider the possible extent of damage to an individual; another the overall effects on a whole population. The overriding consideration, of course, is the greater good for the greater number in building a defense against oppression.

Unfortunately, our limited knowledge precludes incontrovertible conclusions. The decision to stage the present series of tests was reached by President Kennedy after weighing the radiation report on past tests against an evaluation of weaponry progress achieved by the Russians in their series last fall.

Our own tests are now measuring the effects of nuclear bursts on radar and communications, defense elements vital to survival as well as to retaliation. Nevertheless, the U. S. is ready, as President Kennedy repeatedly has stated — and President Eisenhower stated before him — to cease testing the moment the Soviets agree to a policed moratorium.

That possibility undoubtedly will remain slim. It would rule out a Moscow double-cross in the future.

These Days

The Woman I Love

When King Edward VIII of Great Britain, etc., resigned his post to marry an American woman from Baltimore, Maryland, there were those who said that such a marriage would fail; that the Duke would regret his act. Twenty-five years have now passed and the Duke and Duchess are still husband and wife. This marriage has not failed.

The Duke and Duchess usually live in France, but they come to this country once each year for about a month. Most of their time is spent in New York where they have many friends. They are a cheerful pair, who have no side to them, as the expression goes. Of course, there are Americans who thrill at meeting royalty.

But when all that is done, one finds the Duke of Windsor a well-informed man who has a sharp nose for the nuances of public affairs. He is in these parts so often that, in many ways, he has become one of us and is undoubtedly an excellent ambassador from the United States to Europe.

There are very few kings left in the world. The beautiful feudal conception of noblesse oblige is one of the qualities which we have lost in our ascent to freedom. Also, in our civilization, where there are two types of aristocracy, the lesser one, based on brains and the more numerous one, based on wealth, too often inherited from a rough-neck, self-made ancestor, the characteristics of an aristocracy based on ancestry are hardly understood.

Many of the so-called European refugees who go by all sorts of feudal titles are not far removed from the fringes of ancient families who, in the thousand years of feudalism, were permitted to hold a spear and were rewarded with some ownership of land. The great families of Europe were few Others, who ply various trades and give the impression that they have come down in the world, have, in reality, been elevated by being permitted to live in this country where they can earn a living of one kind or another and are often invited to dinner for their titles.

Soviet Citizens May Face Another Crackdown

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

It is becoming clearer and clearer that the West ought to take another hard, new look at the strength and weaknesses of the Soviet economy.

For a very long time—until the first Sputnik, in fact—the productivity and technical proficiency of the Soviet system were grossly underestimated by most people in the West. But we have now been told, by Nikita S. Krushchev in person, that we replaced this gross underestimate by a considerable overestimate.

What is implied in this Khrushchev argument is a fairly violent renewal of the classic Soviet conflict between types of investment.

Despite its high growth rate, the Soviet economy is once again unable to meet the investment need of both the military-heavy-industrial sector and the agricultural-and-consumer sector of the economy

Although the theory of the Soviets' limitless upward spiral promised that there would always be enough to go around, Krushchev has now told us that there is nothing like enough. He has also told us that the Soviet leadership, as always in the past, has once again given priority to the military-heavy-industrial sector. Here, investments are not being skimped.

S. would soon be "overtaken" and so on and on. In the Khrushchev era, the Soviet Union has become what is now called "a society of rising expectations." But will this "society of rising expectations" cheerfully tolerate the disappointment of its expectations?

The answer is, of course, that the disappointment will be tolerated, but not cheerfully tolerated. In his speech on the food price rises, Khrushchev remarked grimly: "Those who do not wish to understand should be called to order."

No student of the Soviet agricultural problem believes that the problem is going to be solved by the jerry-built expedients now being atempted, which largely depend on the use of bureaucrats as a substitute for fertilizer. If many persons "do not wish to understand," the "calling to order" will have to begin.

Stalin's terror can hardly be revived after Stalin's reburial. But it is not impossible that the Russian people will again experience one of those abrupt increases of police control and shrinkages of freedom which have occurred so often in the melancholy Russian past.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

POLITICS USUALLY WINS — Whenever the urgencies of politics and legislation conflict, politics usually wins out. When the Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted 8 to 7 to cut aid to India by 25 per cent, one of the absent senators was Alexander Wiley, who can usually be counted on to support foreign programs.

Although a Republican, Wiley has had a long record in favor of internationalism and has supported foreign aid in the past. Wiley is counted on by President Kennedy to support foreign aid and similar measures.

However, when that crucial committee vote was taken, Wiley was back in his native Wisconsin doing some political campaigning. Kennedy may have been concerned about his absence, but there was little he could say about it.

The fact is that Kennedy himself was in the same state at the same time for the same reason. He was there to help the political campaign of Gov. Gaylord Nelson who will be running against Wiley for the Senate next November.

Down Texas way, some people are wondering about Heller's value as a presidential adviser on economics when he can be taken in this fashion.

While the names are almost identical, the fact is that they are two different—and unrelated—Hellers. Kennedy's Heller explains that his middle initial is "W" and he's thinking of changing his name to W. Wolfgang Heller.

New Preventive Boon For Migraine Suffers

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A new headache preventive may be a boon to those suffering from severe and frequent migraine. The product, methysergide, relieves the vascular changes in the brain that are responsible for the headache. Side reactions occur in one-third of the users but they are reported to be mild and to clear promptly when the drug is withdrawn.

Methysergide relieves distress within a day or two in those with prolonged bouts and the individual is comfortable so long as the medication is used. The beneficial effects disappear within 24 to 48 hours of its discontinuance. The immediate flare-up following cessation of therapy is a common occurrence when drugs of this nature are employed.

The common migraine attack is a periodic, throbbing pain, located usually on one side of the head. It frequently is preceded by a psychological disturbance and changes in vision such as blurring, zigzagging, or photophobia. Many develop nausea, vomiting, and irritability.

In women, the bouts may be associated with menstruation and they tend to diminish after the menopause. Headache may be precipitated by tension or the use of alcohol or chocolate.

The mechanism of the migraine headache is well known. The first step is spasm of the main artery to one side of the brain. This produces the pre-headache phenomena, including visual changes. The next step is relaxation of spasm with dilatation and distention of the branches of the artery. It is the distention that creates the throbbing, pounding headache.

Most of the modern remedies such as the ergot-caffeine group of drugs shrink the dilated vessel. Methysergide does the same. Time will tell whether the newcomer will prove to be as safe and practical as the older products.

Dr. Van Dellen will send leaflet on migraine if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

WHITE SPOTS

E. B. writes: Please enlighten me. Last year I developed white spots on the skin that did not tan with the rest of the face. With spring here, do you think I ought to stay out of the sun?

REPLY

This is vitiligo and the white spots are areas that have lost pigment. The sun accentuates the condition because the normal skin tans, making the contrast greater. The spots can be camouflaged with cosmetics. Tablets that stimulate skin pigment also are useful in some instances. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on vitiligo.

HAIR SHOTS

C. R. writes: Can shots be injected into the scalp to restore lost hair?

REPLY

Not for the hereditary male type baldness. Hydrocortisone is used occasionally for some forms of baldness (alopecia areata) but the results are not always successful. Hair grows only over the area where the steroid is injected; as a result, many shots are needed.

LUNG SPACE

R. P. writes: What happens to the cavity when a lung is removed? Does it fill up with something?

REPLY

The chest wall collapses somewhat and the lung on the other side shifts over to fill in most of the space. Serum fills the remaining space which ultimately is replaced by scar tissue.

PRESSURE DECREASE

J. D. writes: What would make the blood pressure go down 30 points in 10 minutes?

REPLY

Relaxation.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Lon Tinkle noticed that a female neighbor of his in a fashionable suburb of Dallas had five brand new Lincoln Continentals — all cocoa colored — lined up in front of her door. "You didn't actually buy all these cars at one time?" gasped Tinkle. "Yes, I did, honey," said the neighbor. "My phone was out of order for a whole day and the man who runs the agency was dreamy about letting me use his. And when people are nice to you in a store — well, you can't just walk out without buying something!"

They say that one famous Broadway publicist is so nearsighted that when he spotted an apartment house roof covered with TV antennas, he cried out in a panic, "Hey, you crazy kids! Come down off that roof!"

Mrs. Glogauer, fat, fashionable, and fortyish, was about to give her first recital after years of arduous vocal lessons. The audience was large, if unenthusiastic, consisting of Mr. Glogauer's employes, who had been ordered to attend — or else.

"Oh," wailed the jittery Mrs. Glogauer, "if I only could learn what to do with my hands while I'm singing."

"Why not," suggested Mr. Glogauer wearily, "just hold them over your mouth?"

Insurance Companies Not Obligated To Pay Plane Bomber's Survivors

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Bombing an airplane to collect insurance doesn't pay. Those cold-blooded and fiendish enough to take other people's lives for the purpose of collecting insurance for their families or themselves, don't seem to know this, which apparently is why there have been so many bombings of passenger planes.

But along with their cold-blooded plotting against the lives of innocent people they should consider the fact that insurance companies are not obligated to pay off the bomber or his beneficiaries when a plane is bombed and furthermore the bomb always leaves telltale evidence behind.

Structure distortion, the odor of cordite, black smudges and the residue of shrapnel always point to the work of a bomb. As a result not one insurance company has ever paid off. Furthermore all the bombers are now either dead or in prison.

The Score

Here is the record:

Nov. 1, 1955, at Longmont, Colo. — Bomb exploded on United Airlines en route New York to Seattle, 44 killed. John Gilbert Graham convicted, and died in the gas chamber for having placed a bomb in the baggage compartment in an effort to kill his mother and claim her $250,000 estate. He took out $37,500 worth of life insurance on his mother. The insurance was not paid.

July 25, 1957, at Daggett, Calif. —Saul F. Binstock, carrying $125,000 insurance, blew himself out of the lavatory of Western Airlines en route Las Vegas to Los Angeles. The insurance was not paid. The plane landed at George Air Force Base with no injuries to other passengers.

Jan. 6, 1960, at Bolivia, N. C. —34 persons killed when National Airlines crashed as the result of a bomb explosion in the passenger compartment which blew Julian Frank out of the plane 16 miles from where the wreckage came down. Frank was reportedly in business difficulties. He had taken out an $875,000 insurance policy favoring his wife a year prior to the accident. The insurance was not paid.

May 22, 1962, at Unionville, Mo. —45 dead in a Continental Airlines crash. A bomb had been placed underneath the wash basin. Thomas G. Doty of Miriam, Kans., took out a $375,000 life insurance policy. Geneva Fraley of Independence, Mo., is said to have had one for $75,000. The two were traveling together.

On Nov. 16, 1959, over the Gulf of Mexico, a National Airlines plane crashed, killing 42, believed to be the work of a bomber. The final report when it comes will list the cause as unknown. A National plane, a DC-7, en route from Miami to New Orleans, disappeared with no wreckage ever found, though some debris and bodies were recovered from the Gulf. The name of one passenger, Dr. Robert Vernon Spears, against whom criminal abortion charges are pending in Los Angeles, was on the passenger list, but Dr. Spears was later found in Phoenix, Ariz., driving a car belonging to a Mr. Taylor, who Spears admitted had taken his place on the flight. Spears has a long criminal record and was sentenced for taking Taylor's auto across state lines.

Apr. 17, 1950 — John Henry Grant placed an incendiary homemade bomb in family luggage aboard United Airlines DC-3 bound from Los Angeles to San Diego. The bomb smoked, and was discovered. Grant was sentenced from one to twenty years for attempted murder and failed in his attempt to collect the $25,000 insurance on his wife and two children, who were passengers.

That's the record. And the more people realize the facts in the record, the fewer attempts will be made to murder innocent people in the air.

Pentagon Squash Casualty

The big inter-service sports rivalry that the public hears about is the famous annual Army-Navy football game. But the sports rivalry the public doesn't hear about takes place in the Pentagon gymnasium between two top officials — Secretary of Defense Bob McNamara and Secretary of the Air Force Gene Zuckert.

They play squash, and there are no more determined, do-or-die, give-'em-hell squash players in the nation's capital then these two executives. When they play, woe be it to anyone who gets in their way— including themselves.

Secretary McNamara, aged 46, should have the edge over Secretary Zuckert, aged 50, but this is not the case. McNamara has never yet defeated Zuckert for a set.

Last week, however, he succeeded in putting Zuckert out of the running for the balance of this year. He fell on Zuckert's right ankle.

The Secretary of the Air Force has been in a cast ever since, his ankle broken. It was all accidental, of course, but it indicates how intense is the sports rivalry between top executives of the Defense Department.

Note — Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, who also plays squash, always loses to McNamara. Perhaps it's because he's been absorbed with the Billie Sol Estes case.

Race For Moon

Both American and Russian space scientists are planning to build a base on the moon's harsh, hostile surface. Asked about this lunar competition, a top U. S. space authority explained privately: "It reminds me of the freshmen in the Canadian north woods, who frantically began chopping firewood for the winter. Before chopping any more, one decided to check wtih a nearby Indian chief about the outlook for winter.

In other words, suggested the spaceman, the reason for much of the East-West rivalry is simply that the other side is doing it.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

How much is a miracle worth? A hundred? A thousand? Perhaps a million? Name a number. When a man with a stethoscope clamped around his neck runs his talented fingers over the feverish body of a baby, he is trying to perform a miracle. With God's assent, plus a store of knowledge and skill, plus a complexity of chemicals, he will make that infant well.

Is it your baby? How much is it worth to have your baby back? In the crisis, you would cheerfully sign away your home, your furniture, your car, your bank account in return for a guarantee that the baby will not die.

Still, when the child is healthy, and the bill arrives, you probably curse the doctor as a robber. Almost all people do. My father is one of the rare ones. He was in a hospital for two weeks recently. He was so close to the pearly gates that he has the imprint of the bars on his chest. The bill? About $750 for nurses; $250 for doctors; $300 for hospital.

He regards his miracle as a bargain at $1,300. But he hasn't got the money. His police pension and his social security, at age 78, are small. Still, he does not complain, even though he now realizes that doctors have been playing an ever growing part in his life for the past 20 years.

It is ironic that medical research has helped man to live 10 years longer, but no one gave him the means to take advantage of it. Old arteries and pumps and lungs are kept functioning long after their normal span, but the mind they nourish is apprehensive. Few people, even with good hospitalization policies, can afford to be ill for more than a few days.

The doctor is inclined to forget that he is a human being. He likes to think of himself as selfless, charitable, devoted to the poor. Collectively, he is nothing of the sort. He thinks of himself first, which is right and proper. He wants to earn a lot of money, drive a big car, own stocks, play golf, dress well and send his children to the best schools in the country. He does not want poor patients, and, when he is stuck with one, he often asks where the money is coming from before he consents to operate.

He sees the President's plan for Medical Care for the Aged as a step toward socialism. He calls it creeping socialism. It isn't, of course. It is charity. In fact, is is the finest kind of charity because it puts a small burden on the able-bodied to take care of our older people.

What the doctor really sees is a threat to his income. Until this moment, the American doctor has been living high. He has never had it so good. He can charge as much as the traffic will bear. This is not to say that he does, because there are plenty of doctors who try to tailor their fees to the patient's pocketbook.

Nor is this easy, or honest, because most patients, when questioned about ability to pay, will lie to the doctor about the family finances and try to make it appear that if the tonsillectomy comes to more than 10 dollars, the family will starve to death. Neither the patient nor the doctor is economically clean. They fence with oral scalpels.

In the last few years of my mother's life (diabetes, chronic heart failure) medicines averaged more than $12 a week. It would have been a lot more, except that Dr. Bernard Krull refused to take more than $2 for a housecall. He only took that so that my father could keep his pride.

There are about 17,000,000 Americans who are 65 years of age or more. Precious few of these are employed, and fewer are rich. The American Medical Association is not fighting Mr. Kennedy. It is fighting the old people. The tide is against the A.M.A., so much so that groups of their own membership have publicly denounced their attitude toward Medical Care for the Aged. Some lean so far in the opposite direction that they have sworn not to treat old people under the government plan.

It is embarrassing to find that the family doctor is a politician. His handouts of tracts, written in Chicago in the big A.M.A. building, advise patients to write to their congressmen and go on record as opposed to the pending bill. It is embarrassing to refuse to do so, and it hurts to say to a doctor: "Your high fees, your unnecessary surgery, have brought this upon you. And more will come unless you learn to live with us — the millions of people who need you."

How much is a miracle worth? I don't know. But I know how the first medical beatitude should read. It should say: "Let us help the helpless." . . .

You're Telling Me

By William Ritt

The city of Honolulu, Hawaii, we read, has an average annual rainfall of about 25 inches, but just three miles inland the average rainfall is 100 inches. No wonder so many folk move to town!

One of the differences between a man who is a snappy dresser and a tramp, points out Milt, the sterling printer, is that the first may sport a Tattersall vest, the other one that is all tatters.

The wild turkeys of Colonial times were much larger than the domesticated gobblers of today, according to an historian. Guess those old pioneers didn't have it so tough, after all!

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Now that it is all over, Connie Stevens is ultra frank in admitting that her "romance" with Glenn Ford was never what it was built up to be. She shrugs, "I don't even know when Glenn is returning from Europe. I've hardly heard from him in six weeks." And, from the sound of her you get the impression she's spinning no torch songs on the hi-fi set.

Connie has more pressing problems, and not to her liking.

Her feud with Warner Brothers has simmered down to a compromise: She has agreed to make 17 more "Hawaiian Eye" TV segments if the studio will live up to its promise to give her a worthwhile motion picture.

Ethel Merman, who always sounds as hale and hearty as if she'd just finished a brace of sitting up exercises, called to say "Hello" to Louella Parsons. As usual Miss-New-York-herself has nothing to do.

She's lolling around between recording sessions, wardrobe fittings for Stanley Kramer's "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," interviews, portrait sittings, and contacting her hundreds of friends in this town. Things have been pretty dull around these parts. But there's nobody like La Merman to get all systems go, go, going again.

The sports writers who got on Bo (no hit) Belinsky for blowing his game with the Yankees following "a night out dancing" at the Cocoanut Grove might not have been so critical if they'd had a look at his eye-filling date, Carmen Phillips. The sensational young Angel pitcher may have been wild on the mound, but he was on his mark at the Grove.

Bo called Carmen again over the weekend for some more fancy stepping. She's not a baseball fan, so it's up to Bo to make up his mind about what time he goes home to get his rest before a big game—unless Bill Rigney makes it up for him first!

King Features Syndicate enters the music business both as publisher and recording company, according to F. C. McLearn, general manager of KFS, and Al Brodax, director of TV for KFS. The syndicate concluded an agreement with Si Radi, head of Bing Crosby Project Records to get the new music operation under way.

Radi's first project is the development of music for King Features' new "Barney Google and Snuffy Smith" animated TV series for next season. King Features also plans an animated feature-length motion picture, also under Radi's supervision. Other of the syndicate's various cartoons and other features will be packaged as records and albums.

Sad days for British actor Anthony Steele, once married to Anita Ekberg. His mother, Mrs. Yates Lee, fell down the steps of a public building in London and suffered injuries that resulted in her death.

Julie Adams and Ray Danton happily admit they are expecting their second child in December. They have a son, Steven, so they're hoping for a doll this time.

Edie Adams was a nervous girl working in her first scenes with Sid Caesar in "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World." It didn't calm her any when co-star Spencer Tracy showed up to watch. When Edie apologized for her jitters, Spence said, "If you weren't nervous you'd be tuning up for a lousy performance."

Her many friends in Hollywood extend deepest sympathy to Mrs. Ruby Schinasi, whose son Leon, 35, died of a heart attack in New York.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Bad Habits Detract From Your Charm

I'm sure you will agree that these habits, which stand out in my mind as singularly unattractive, are habits of which no truly charming woman is guilty:

Going out in public when one's hair is bristling with bobby pins. Some hair styles require frequent "sets," but that is no excuse for playing the porcupine. There are close-fitting hats to conceal bobby pins, and colorful scarves to wear if you must leave home with your hair in pins.

Appropriating the sidewalk by marching four or five abreast. This seems to be a teenage custom, but why should teenagers be exempt from good manners? Ladylike ways ought to be observed by girls and women of all ages.

Speaking rudely in public places, such as in a department store or on a bus. I wonder how some clerks and bus drivers manage to stay with their jobs after being "bawled out" unnecessarily by the people they serve! Whatever became of the practice of counting to ten before unleashing an angry tongue?

Displaying bad manners in elevators. It's only polite to move to the back of an elevator, to stand quietly, facing the front, and to call your floor distinctly. The opposites of politeness? Pushing and shoving, loud talk, treading on toes.

Chewing gum while walking on the street. The number of people I've seen contentedly munching gum would line up for blocks, and what an unpleasant-looking group they'd be! Gum chewing is good exercise for the facial muscles, but like other exercises it is to be indulged in privately.

Using slang and vulgar language. I don't hold with the old-fashioned belief of washing a child's mouth out with soap when a "naughty word" has been spoken, but I believe our schools face a great task of teaching correct language—language that is becoming to a lady no matter where she is overheard.

Voice secrets are charm secrets! Talk your way to a higher charm rating! YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE "tells all"—a copy's yours for 10 cents and a stamped, return envelope sent to "Secrets of Charm," c/o this newspaper.

The spectacular rise in production per acre during the last 10 years has been especially noticeable in the major crops—wheat, cotton, and feed grains.

Lime is applied to an acid soil to counteract the acidity and thus provide a more favorable place in which plant roots and soil microorganisms may grow.

King Features Syndicate enters the music business both as publisher and recording company, according to F. C. McLearn, general manager of KFS, and Al Brodax, director of TV for KFS. The syndicate concluded an agreement with Si Radi, head of Bing Crosby Project Records to get the new music operation under way.

Radi's first project is the development of music for King Features' new "Barney Google and Snuffy Smith" animated TV series for next season. King Features also plans an animated feature-length motion picture, also under Radi's supervision. Other of the syndicate's various cartoons and other features will be packaged as records and albums.

Sad days for British actor Anthony Steele, once married to Anita Ekberg. His mother, Mrs. Yates Lee, fell down the steps of a public building in London and suffered injuries that resulted in her death.

Julie Adams and Ray Danton happily admit they are expecting their second child in December. They have a son, Steven, so they're hoping for a doll this time.

Edie Adams was a nervous girl working in her first scenes with Sid Caesar in "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World." It didn't calm her any when co-star Spencer Tracy showed up to watch. When Edie apologized for her jitters, Spence said, "If you weren't nervous you'd be tuning up for a lousy performance."

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Bad Habits Detract From Your Charm

I'm sure you will agree that these habits, which stand out in my mind as singularly unattractive, are habits of which no truly charming woman is guilty:

Going out in public when one's hair is bristling with bobby pins. Some hair styles require frequent "sets," but that is no excuse for playing the porcupine. There are close-fitting hats to conceal bobby pins, and colorful scarves to wear if you must leave home with your hair in pins.

Appropriating the sidewalk by marching four or five abreast. This seems to be a teenage custom, but why should teenagers be exempt from good manners? Ladylike ways ought to be observed by girls and women of all ages.

Speaking rudely in public places, such as in a department store or on a bus. I wonder how some clerks and bus drivers manage to stay with their jobs after being "bawled out" unnecessarily by the people they serve! Whatever became of the practice of counting to ten before unleashing an angry tongue?

Displaying bad manners in elevators. It's only polite to move to the back of an elevator, to stand quietly facing the front, and to call your floor distinctly. The opposites of politeness? Pushing and shoving, loud talk, treading on toes.

Chewing gum while walking on the street. The number of people I've seen contentedly munching gum would line up for blocks, and what an unpleasant-looking group they'd be! Gum chewing is good exercise for the facial muscles, but like other exercises it is to be indulged in privately.

Using slang and vulgar language. I don't hold with the old-fashioned belief of washing a child's mouth out with soap when a "naughty word" has been spoken, but I believe our schools face a great task of teaching correct language—language that is becoming to a lady no matter where she is overheard.

Voice secrets are charm secrets! Talk your way to a higher charm rating! YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE "tells all"—a copy's yours for 10 cents and a stamped, return envelope sent to "Secrets of Charm," c/o this newspaper.

Romney Bicentennial Will Start On June 15

ROMNEY, W. Va.—This Hampshire County seat—West Virginia's oldest town — is celebrating its 200th birthday this year and the first official function will be a dinner on June 15 on the campus of the School for the Deaf and Blind in Romney.

Among the distinguished guests will be Mrs. William Wallace Barron, wife of the state's chief executive; Joe F. Burdett, West Virginia's secretary of state; C. Donald Robertson, the state attorney general; Dr. Warden M. Lane, director of the Department of Natural Resources of West Virginia; U. S. Senator Robert C. Byrd, Circuit Judge H. Gus Muntzing, Jim Comstock, editor of the famed publication, "Hill Billy," and Dr. A. Gordon Slonaker, academic dean of Shepherd College, who will deliver the principal address dealing with local history.

The dinner is sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority of Romney, with net proceeds going to the Girl Scouts, the Municipal Swimming Pool Fund and the Bicentennial itself. Reservations may be made through Mrs. Bonnie Long or Mrs. Barbara Smith of the Sorority, or through Bicentennial officers. The public is invited.

The period of greatest activity in connection with Romney's 200th birthday observance will be August 8-11th when various exhibits and contests will be open to the public. A musical extravaganza, produced and directed by the professionals, Emmett and Nina Oldfield, will be a feature of Homecoming Day on Friday, August 10. An ox roast, tournament riding, and the Tournament Queen's Ball are highlights of the preceding day's activities. Saturday, August 11, is the day of the coronation of the Bicentennial Queen by Mrs. William Wallace Barron, followed by drill team competition, the Grand Feature Parade, a concert by the Metropolitan Police Band of Washington, D. C., and the Bicentennial Queen's Ball . . .

Among the units that have applied for entry in the Grand Feature Parade on August 11 are the Rouss "Knights of Erin" Drum and Bugle Corps, of Winchester, present Virginia State Champions; Company K, 5th Virginia Infantry, CSA, Winchester; the Metropolitan Police Band of Washington, D.C.; the Fife and Drum Corps and Marching Unit of the First Battle Group, 3rd Infantry "Old Guard" Regiment, United States Army, of Fort Myer, Va., who will be colorfully attired in colonial period uniforms; the high school bands from Capon Bridge, Ridgeley, Hedgesville and Romney, W. Va.; and floats sponsored by the Hampshire Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, the Lions Club, and the Hampshire Jaycees, all of Romney. All bands, drum and bugle corps, marching units, float sponsors, etc., are cordially invited to apply for entry in the Grand Feature Parade at Romney on August 11 by contacting Roy Keister, chairman of the parade committee. Deadline for making application is July 28. Token expense money will be given to all school bands, and attractive cash prizes will be awarded to independent winners in various categories.

Romney is the oldest incorporated town in what is now West Virginia, having been chartered by the House of Burgesses of Virginia in 1762. The first settlers built homes on the present site of Romney in 1738. The land was given to them by Thomas Lord Fairfax who had divided the parcel into 100 lots of one-half acre each with streets bearing the names which they have today. Fort Pearsall was constructed there in 1756 under the personal supervision of George Washington. It served effective against Indian raids.

In the course of the Civil War, Romney was an important communications center, attested by the fact that it changed hands at least 56 times and attracted the attention of such noted military leaders as General "Stonewall" Jackson who occupied the town on several occasions.

Saturday, August 11, is the day of the coronation of the Bicentennial Queen by Mrs. William Wallace Barron, followed by drill team competition, the Grand Feature Parade, a concert by the Metropolitan Police Band of Washington, D. C., and the Bicentennial Queen's Ball . . .

Among the units that have applied for entry in the Grand Feature Parade on August 11 are the Rouss "Knights of Erin" Drum and Bugle Corps, of Winchester, present Virginia State Champions; Company K, 5th Virginia Infantry, CSA, Winchester; the Metropolitan Police Band of Washington, D.C.; the Fife and Drum Corps and Marching Unit of the First Battle Group, 3rd Infantry "Old Guard" Regiment, United States Army, of Fort Myer, Va., who will be colorfully attired in colonial period uniforms; the high school bands from Capon Bridge, Ridgeley, Hedgesville and Romney, W. Va.; and floats sponsored by the Hampshire Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, the Lions Club, and the Hampshire Jaycees, all of Romney. All bands, drum and bugle corps, marching units, float sponsors, etc., are cordially invited to apply for entry in the Grand Feature Parade at Romney on August 11 by contacting Roy Keister, chairman of the parade committee. Deadline for making application is July 28. Token expense money will be given to all school bands, and attractive cash prizes will be awarded to independent winners in various categories.

Romney is the oldest incorporated town in what is now West Virginia, having been chartered by the House of Burgesses of Virginia in 1762. The first settlers built homes on the present site of Romney in 1738. The land was given to them by Thomas Lord Fairfax who had divided the parcel into 100 lots of one-half acre each with streets bearing the names which they have today. Fort Pearsall was constructed there in 1756 under the personal supervision of George Washington. It served effective against Indian raids.

In the course of the Civil War, Romney was an important communications center, attested by the fact that it changed hands at least 56 times and attracted the attention of such noted military leaders as General "Stonewall" Jackson who occupied the town on several occasions.

Area Soroptimist Clubs Plan Joint Installation

DR. PATRICK GAINER

KEYSER — "Our Mountain State" will be the theme of the dinner-meeting of the Soroptimist clubs of the Tri-Towns and Keyser Saturday evening at the Upper Potomac Shrine Club.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Patrick W. Gainer, of West Virginia University, who will present a program on mountain state folklore.

Rhododendron, the state flower, and the cardinal, the official state bird, will be used in the decorations. A wall map of the immediate vicinity and surronding area will be displayed through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Umstot.

In keeping with the theme, the Double Octave Chorus from Keyser Elementary School, directed by Mrs. Phyllis Chapman, will sing a medley of West Virginia songs. Mrs. Helen Chambers will be toastmistress.

Another highlight will be a joint installation of officers from both clubs by Mrs. Marguerite S. Murphy, Morgantown, treasurer of the South Atlantic Region, Soroptimist Federation of the Americas, Inc. She is past president of the Morgantown Club and has held numerous other offices in addition to being active in community affairs.

Dr. Gainer, professor of English at WVU, has for more than a quarter of a century endeavored to preserve the folk traditions of the West Virginia mountaineers. He has recorded the songs, fiddle tunes, stories, and other oral traditions which are a part of the folk culture of the state.

To make people aware of the importance of folk culture, Dr. Gainer organized the State Folk Festival in 1950 at Glenville and directed it for 10 years. He now directs the Mountain State Folk Festival each summer at Beckley. He is president of the West Virginia Folklore Society.

Since 1881, when Switzerland became the first country to mint a coin of pure nickel, 44 other countries have also adopted pure nickel coinage.

"I am not implying any wrongdoing, other than the fact they were the responsible people when these alleged deficiencies occurred," he added.

Wednesday, investigaors of a House special subcommittee probing the federal highway program announced they were joining forces with State Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson in investigating rights-of-way purchases in the state during the past five years.

Morgantown Seeks Industrial Use Of Ordnance Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Morgantown, W.Va., civic leaders started new talks here Thursday about the possibility of putting the huge Morgantown ordnance works to industrial use.

Robert Wilburn and James Mccartney of the Morgantown Community Association talked with Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd and Rep. Harley O. Staggers, West Virginia Democrats.

The GSA recently rejected all bids received in its latest effort to sell the World War II plant. The GSA said the bids were unsatisfactory.

Greek Money Is Made Favorite For Rich Belmont Stakes Saturday

Roman Line, Daddy R. Out Of Big Race

Jaipur 2nd Choice, Seven May Start In 1½ Mile Contest

By RAY AYRES
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Preakness champion Greek Money replaced Crimson Satan as the slight advance favorite Thursday for Saturday's rich Belmont Stakes, while the probable field for the classic was cut to seven by the withdrawl of Roman Line and Daddy R.

Lou Walger, head of the parimutuel department at Belmont, predicted Greek Money would step to the post as the choice in the mile-and-a-half third jewel of the trile crown.

Expect Betting Record

But Walger also predicted that there will be "very little difference" in the betting among the top four horses — Greek Money, Crimson Satan, Kentucky Derby champion Decidedly, and Jersey Derby champion Jaipur. He forecast that the wide-open race would cause New York fans to set a single-race betting record for this city of over $800,000.

Roman Line, runner-up in the Kentucky Derby, was indicated out of the Belmont when trainer Tennessee Wright released jockey Johnny Sellers, who had been scheduled to ride.

In addition to the top four, David K., Admiral's Voyage, and Vimy Ridge also are listed as certain starters. There is also a chance that J.H. Volkes Combien will be named in the official entries Friday, but that is considered a very slight chance.

Greek Money Is 5-2

In the latest advance line, Greek Money was listed at 5-2 and Jaipur next at 3-1, followed by Crimson Satan at 7-2, Decidedly 9-2, Admiral's Voyage 8-1, Vimy Ridge 12-1, and David K. 20-1.

BEALL'S COUNTY LEAGUE CHAMPIONS — Coach Enordo "Moose" Arnone's Beall High School Mountaineers won the championship of the Allegany County High School Baseball League Wednesday by routing LaSalle, 10-0, in the playoff finale at Frosburg. This is Beall's first championship team since 1953 when the Mountaineers tied Hyndman at 12-4. The Mountain City team this year copped the league's Western Division title with an 8-2 record and whipped Fort Hill, 2-1, and LaSalle in the playoffs. The team's overall record for 1962 is 12-2. The Beall squad, left to right: FIRST ROW—Allan Eisel, Tom Wilson, Gerald Cole, John Chaney, Charles Gray, Robert Ashby, James Wilson and Rance Ritchie. SECOND ROW—Coach Arnone, John Kerch, Dave Broadwater, Wayne Harper, Don Richards, Jim Diehl, Milburn Ziler, Ronald Werner, Bill Diehl and Ken O'Rourke, scorekeeper. THIRD ROW—Mike Kelly, Gary Watson, David Wilson, Wayne Miller, Dana Robertson, John Blank, Doug Layman, Danny Jones, Allen Green, Larry Hohing, manager; Ken McKenzie, manager, and Eddie Ritchey, manager. Arnone has coached at Beall four years and his baseball teams have won 35, lost 18 and played one tie game.

Dappers Defeat Dans In First Booster Game

Five hundred persons gathered at Penn Avenue Field last night to witness the first of two "Booster Games" staged by the Dapper Dan Little League and saw the Dappers emerge the winners in the 12-inning affair by the score of 13-1.

The Dappers collected 12 hits while the Dans were limited to six.

Four three-inning games were staged and teams of the Dapper circuit won three of them. The Phillies blanked the Indians, 2-0, the Giants downed the Senators, 5-1, and the Orioles skunked the Angels, 6-0.

Nelson Carroll of the Senators and Dennis Young of the Giants had the game's only extra base hits—both rapping doubles. Carroll also turned in the best fielding play, a running catch in left field.

Commencing at 6:30 p.m. today, at Penn Avenue Field, another 12-inning "Boster Game" is scheduled. In the three-inning tests, the Cards will oppose the Braves, the Pirates will tackle the Tigers, the Yankees will oppose the Athletics and the Cubs will tangle with the Twins.

Al Smith Gets 5 Hits For Winners

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Outfielder Al Smith's five straight singles and a seven-run outburst in the second inning Thursday highlighted the Chicago White Sox' 8-4 win over the Los Ange Angels.

Smith got two of his hits in the big second inning. He led off with a single against Angel starter Eli Grba and drove in a pair of runs the second time up against Tom Morgan, the third Angel pitcher of the inning.

But Pizarro hit a streak of wildness in the fourth. He loaded the bases on walks, and Joe Koppe singled in two runs before Eddie Fisher took over to retire the side and then continued on to gain the victory. Grba was the loser.

Hoeft Gains Win In Relief Role

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles blasted five Washington pitchers for 14 hits and received excellent relief pitching from Billy Hoeft to crush the Senators, 12-5, Thursday night.

Baltimore got rid of starter Pete Burnside in the second inning with a four-run barrage to take a 6-1 lead. Dick Williams' two-run double and Brooks Robinson's two-run single drove in the runs.

In the third inning, Washington's Chuck Hinton hit a homer with a man on base off Orioles starter Jack Fisher and after an ensuing single and walk, Hoeft came on to pitch. He held the Senators to two runs and four hits over 6 2-3 innings.

The Orioles hit safely in every inning until they were set down in order by Don Rudolph in the eighth inning.

Tillman's Triple Brings Winning Run

BOSTON (AP)—Carroll Hardy's single on the heels of a Bob Tillman triple enabled Boston to defeat Detroit 5-4 Thursday in an eighth-inning comeback.

The teams were locked in a 4-4 battle of relief pitchers when Tillman slammed a three-base blow to deepest center field off Ron Kline.

Boston was ahead 3-1 when the Tigers landed hard on Mike Fornieles in the seventh, turning homers by Jake Wood and Rocky Colavito into a 4-3 lead.

Gary Geiger opened the Boston seventh with a long homer down the right field line to tie the score. Wilson, not involved in the decision, hit his first major league homer for the home forces.

Roman Line, Daddy R. Out Of Big Race

Jaipur 2nd Choice, Seven May Start In 1½ Mile Contest

By RAY AYRES
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Preakness champion Greek Money replaced Crimson Satan as the slight advance favorite Thursday for Saturday's rich Belmont Stakes, while the probable field for the classic was cut to seven by the withdrawl of Roman Line and Daddy R.

Lou Walger, head of the parimutuel department at Belmont, predicted Greek Money would step to the post as the choice in the mile-and-a-half third jewel of the trile crown.

Expect Betting Record

But Walger also predicted that there will be "very little difference" in the betting among the top four horses — Greek Money, Crimson Satan, Kentucky Derby champion Decidedly, and Jersey Derby champion Jaipur. He forecast that the wide-open race would cause New York fans to set a single-race betting record for this city of over $800,000.

Roman Line, runner-up in the Kentucky Derby, was indicated out of the Belmont when trainer Tennessee Wright released jockey Johnny Sellers, who had been scheduled to ride.

Daddy R., which figured to be one of the long shots, was taken out by trainer Clyde Troutt, who reported that the colt "did not ship well at all from Monmouth Park."

In addition to the top four, David K., Admiral's Voyage, and Vimy Ridge also are listed as certain starters. There is also a chance that J.H. Volkes Combien will be named in the official entries Friday, but that is considered a very slight chance.

Greek Money Is 5-2

In the latest advance line, Greek Money was listed at 5-2 and Jaipur next at 3-1, followed by Crimson Satan at 7-2, Decidedly 9-2, Admiral's Voyage 8-1, Vimy Ridge 12-1, and David K. 20-1.

BEALL'S COUNTY LEAGUE CHAMPIONS — Coach Enordo "Moose" Arnone's Beall High School Mountaineers won the championship of the Allegany County High School Baseball League Wednesday by routing LaSalle, 10-0, in the playoff finale at Frosburg. This is Beall's first championship team since 1953 when the Mountaineers tied Hyndman at 12-4. The Mountain City team this year copped the league's Western Division title with an 8-2 record and whipped Fort Hill, 2-1, and LaSalle in the playoffs. The team's overall record for 1962 is 12-2. The Beall squad, left to right: FIRST ROW—Allan Eisel, Tom Wilson, Gerald Cole, John Chaney, Charles Gray, Robert Ashby, James Wilson and Rance Ritchie. SECOND ROW—Coach Arnone, John Kerch, Dave Broadwater, Wayne Harper, Don Richards, Jim Diehl, Milburn Ziler, Ronald Werner, Bill Diehl and Ken O'Rourke, scorekeeper. THIRD ROW—Mike Kelly, Gary Watson, David Wilson, Wayne Miller, Dana Robertson, John Blank, Doug Layman, Danny Jones, Allen Green, Larry Hohing, manager; Ken McKenzie, manager, and Eddie Ritchey, manager. Arnone has coached at Beall four years and his baseball teams have won 35, lost 18 and played one tie game.

Al Smith Gets 5 Hits For Winners

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Outfielder Al Smith's five straight singles and a seven-run outburst in the second inning Thursday highlighted the Chicago White Sox' 8-4 win over the Los Ange Angels.

Smith got two of his hits in the big second inning. He led off with a single against Angel starter Eli Grba and drove in a pair of runs the second time up against Tom Morgan, the third Angel pitcher of the inning.

White Sox starter Juan Pizarro's bases-loaded single also scored two runs in the second inning.

But Pizarro hit a streak of wildness in the fourth. He loaded the bases on walks, and Joe Koppe singled in two runs before Eddie Fisher took over to retire the side and then continued on to gain the victory. Grba was the loser.

Red Sox Trip Detroit, 5-4

Tillman's Triple Brings Winning Run

BOSTON (AP)—Carroll Hardy's single on the heels of a Bob Tillman triple enabled Boston to defeat Detroit 5-4 Thursday in an eighth-inning comeback.

The teams were locked in a 4-4 battle of relief pitchers when Tillman slammed a three-base blow to deepest center field off Ron Kline.

Red Sox starter Earl Wilson had held the Tigers to three singles, one of a fluke infield variety, through five innings before wildness proved his undoing.

Boston was ahead 3-1 when the Tigers landed hard on Mike Fornieles in the seventh, turning homers by Jake Wood and Rocky Colavito into a 4-3 lead.

Gary Geiger opened the Boston seventh with a long homer down the right field line to tie the score. Wilson, not involved in the decision, hit his first major league homer for the home forces.

Braves To Drill

Dappers Defeat Dans In First Booster Game

Five hundred persons gathered at Penn Avenue Field last night to witness the first of two "Booster Games" staged by the Dapper Dan Little League and saw the Dappers emerge the winners in the 12-inning affair by the score of 13-1.

The Dappers collected 12 hits while the Dans were limited to six.

Four three-inning games were staged and teams of the Dapper circuit won three of them. The Phillies blanked the Indians, 2-0, the Giants downed the Senators, 5-1, and the Orioles skunked the Angels, 6-0.

Nelson Carroll of the Senators and Dennis Young of the Giants had the game's only extra base hits—both rapping doubles. Carroll also turned in the best fielding play, a running catch in left field.

The pre-game ceremonies included talks by Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, and Gene Mason, his brother, who is director of the City Recreation Department.

Commencing at 6:30 p.m. today, at Penn Avenue Field, another 12-inning "Boster Game" is scheduled. In the three-inning tests, the Cards will oppose the Braves, the Pirates will tackle the Tigers, the Yankees will oppose the Athletics and the Cubs will tangle with the Twins.

Orioles Belt Senators, 12-5

Hoeft Gains Win In Relief Role

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles blasted five Washington pitchers for 14 hits and received excellent relief pitching from Billy Hoeft to crush the Senators, 12-5, Thursday night.

Baltimore got rid of starter Pete Burnside in the second inning with a four-run barrage to take a 6-1 lead. Dick Williams' two-run double and Brooks Robinson's two-run single drove in the runs.

In the third inning, Washington's Chuck Hinton hit a homer with a man on base off Orioles starter Jack Fisher and after an ensuing single and walk, Hoeft came on to pitch. He held the Senators to two runs and four hits over 6 2-3 innings.

The Orioles hit safely in every inning until they were set down in order by Don Rudolph in the eighth inning.

Pirates Edge Dodgers On Stuart's Homer; Yanks Trim Cleveland

Ninth-Inning Blast Gives Bucs 3-2 Win

Face Is Victor; Loss Spoils L.A. Bid For Top Spot

PITTSBURGH, (AP) — Dick Stuart's three-run homer in the ninth inning gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night and ruined the Dodgers' shot at exclusive possession of first place in the National League.

Going into the ninth, Podres had given up only four hits and had a 2-0 lead that would have enabled the Dodgers to slip past the San Francisco Giants into first place.

But Dick Groat and Roberto Clemente led off the ninth with back-to-back singles and Stuart followed with his blast off reliever Larry Sherry that dropped the Dodgers out of a first place tie into second place.

Keyser pushed over the winning run on a disputed play in the sixth inning, then added four more in the seventh to defeat the Cumberland Comets, 11-6, yesterday in a Twilight Baseball League contest at Fort Hill.

The loss was the second of the season for Cumberland which played the game under protest after an umpire's decision in the sixth inning. With the bases loaded and 3-2 count on the batter, the Cumberland pitcher threw to the plate in an effort to catch the Keyser base runner who was attempting to steal home.

The plate umpire first called the runner out, then reversed his decision and decided the pitcher was on the rubber at the time, the pitch was ball four, forcing in the run which gave Keyser a 7-6 lead. Cumberland protested at this point.

Abe Is Loser

Ivan Abe was touched for nine hits in absorbing the loss for the Comets who trail the league leading Westernport nine by 200 percentage points. Keyser's Bob Rosehite was the winner in relief as the visitors chalked up their seventh triumph in 10 starts.

Gary Keedy paced the Keyser attack with a double and triple while Dick Rollins had two hits and Luzzhall belted a three-run triple. Ronnie Cage had a three-bagger and Pooch Lewis and Jim Weakley each hit a single and triple for Cumberland.

Westernport played an 8-8 tie with Franklin at Westernport, the game called after eight innings because of darkness.

Franklin's Bill Bennett had two hits, Ed Laubert cracked out a double and single and Bob White had a pair of singles in the tie game.

Cardwell Hurls Chicago To 4-3 Win Over Giants

Rodgers Hits Homer, Single For 3 RBIs

CHICAGO (UPI) — Andre Rodgers drove in three runs with a bases-loaded single and a home run Thursday to pace the Chicago Cubs to their second straight win over the San Francisco Giants, 4-3, and saddle Billy Pierce with his first loss of the season.

Pierce, unbeaten in eight previous decisions, survived a shaky second inning when the Cubs loaded the bases after one out, but he was racked for three runs on four hits in the fourth.

Stafford Tosses Two-Hitter; Maris Cracks 10th Homer

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Stafford fired a superb two-hitter and Roger Maris hit a key home run as the New York Yankees kept their one-game lead in the American League race with a 4-0 triumph over Cleveland Thursday night.

The loss was the Indians' fourth in a row and dropped them into third place, two games behind the Yankees and one back of Minnesota.

Stafford turned in a brilliant job for his fifth victory in eight decisions. The rangy young right-hander gave up a single to Al Luplow with one out in the fourth inning and another to Bubba Phillips after two were away in the fifth. In the other seven innings he retired the side in order, striking out three along the way and not allowing a single walk.

Maris' 10th homer leading off the fourth was the first hit off Perry and he gave up just one more—an infield single to Yogi Berra with two out in the seventh—before he was knocked out in the eighth.

WINS LEGION TROPHY—Edward Eugene Litton, football and basketball star at Ridgeley High School, received the American Legion Memorial Sportsmanship Award at the school's 28th annual commencement last night. The trophy was presented to Litton by Gilbert Brant, Americanism officer of Knobley Post No. 136, American Legion of Ridgeley.

Brewer Leads Golf Classic

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Gay Brewer Jr., a snub-nosed Kentuckian, got the jump on the game's glamor boys by firing a 6-under-par 66 Thursday for the first round lead in the $100,000 Golf Classic.

Brewer, one-putting eight greens and three-putting another for his lone bogey, put together a brace of 33's over the 7,055-yard, par 36-36-72 Upper Montclair Country Club course.

This gave the 30-year-old a one-stroke lead over Gene Littler, the U.S. Open champion, and the veteran Earl Stewart, a 40-year-old club pro from Dallas. They had 67's.

Dave Ragan and Fred Hawkins, two tour regulars, were tied at 68

Jack Nicklaus, the robust rookie pro from Columbus, Ohio, was bracketed at 69 with former PGA and Masters champion Jack Burke, Mason Rudolph, Dave Marr, Doug Sanders and Frank Boynton. Sam Snead was in a cluster at 70.

Pinto kept pace with the leaders by registering its third win, a 5-1 triumph over Second Baptist at Rolling Mill field. Abe Helmick went the route, scattering four singles, for the win. Bill Sutton had a pair of hits for the victors.

Cresaptown Methodist's defending champs got into the win column for the first time after three losses by beating Trinity Methodist, 13-8, yesterday at Potomac Park.

Ray Sadecki Makes Peace With Cards

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—St. Louis Cardinal pitcher Ray Sadecki, smarting under a $250 fine, and tongue-lashing by manager Johnny Keane, made peace with the management Thursday and ended a one-day boycott.

In a curtly worded statement following a meeting between Keane, Sadecki and General Manager Bing Devine, the Cardinals announced that Keane and Sadecki has "discussed their problems and resolved their differences. As a result, Sadecki's suspension has been lifted and he will be in uniform for tonight's game."

Pirates Edge Dodgers On Stuart's Homer; Yanks Trim Cleveland

Ninth-Inning Blast Gives Bucs 3-2 Win

Face Is Victor; Loss Spoils L.A. Bid For Top Spot

PITTSBURGH, (AP) — Dick Stuart's three-run homer in the ninth inning gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night and ruined the Dodgers' shot at exclusive possession of first place in the National League.

The blow, Stuart's seventh of the season, also spoiled southpaw Johnny Podres' bid for a shutout.

Going into the ninth, Podres had given up only four hits and had a 2-0 lead that would have enabled the Dodgers to slip past the San Francisco Giants into first place.

But Dick Groat and Roberto Clemente led off the ninth with back-to-back singles and Stuart followed with his blast off reliever Larry Sherry that dropped the Dodgers out of a first place tie into second place.

Keyser pushed over the winning run on a disputed play in the sixth inning, then added four more in the seventh to defeat the Cumberland Comets, 11-6, yesterday in a Twilight Baseball League contest at Fort Hill.

The loss was the second of the season for Cumberland which played the game under protest after an umpire's decision in the sixth inning. With the bases loaded and 3-2 count on the batter, the Cumberland pitcher threw to the plate in an effort to catch the Keyser base runner who was attempting to steal home.

The plate umpire first called the runner out, then reversed his decision and decided the pitcher was on the rubber at the time, the pitch was ball four, forcing in the run which gave Keyser a 7-6 lead. Cumberland protested at this point.

Abe Is Loser

Ivan Abe was touched for nine hits in absorbing the loss for the Comets who trail the league leading Westernport nine by 200 percentage points. Keyser's Bob Rosehite was the winner in relief as the visitors chalked up their seventh triumph in 10 starts.

Gary Keedy paced the Keyser attack with a double and triple while Dick Rollins had two hits and Luzzhall belted a three-run triple. Ronnie Cage had a three-bagger and Pooch Lewis and Jim Weakley each hit a single and triple for Cumberland.

Westernport played an 8-8 tie with Franklin at Westernport, the game called after eight innings because of darkness.

Donnie Raines belted a game-tying home run in the bottom of the seventh for Westernport and also collected a double and two singles. Ronnie Broadwater hit for the circuit in the sixth for the league leaders.

Franklin's Bill Bennett had two hits, Ed Laubert cracked out a double and single and Bob White had a pair of singles in the tie game.

Barton's Braves absorbed a 25-9 lacing at the hands of Midland on the latter's diamond yesterday, the victors compiling a pair of seven-run innings.

Lonaconing posted its fourth win by blanking Gilmore, 13-0, behind the five-hit pitching of Hank Winner. The loss was the ninth in 10 games for Gilmore.

Cardwell Hurls Chicago To 4-3 Win Over Giants

Rodgers Hits Homer, Single For 3 RBIs

CHICAGO (UPI) — Andre Rodgers drove in three runs with a bases-loaded single and a home run Thursday to pace the Chicago Cubs to their second straight win over the San Francisco Giants, 4-3, and saddle Billy Pierce with his first loss of the season.

Pierce, unbeaten in eight previous decisions, survived a shaky second inning when the Cubs loaded the bases after one out, but he was racked for three runs on four hits in the fourth.

Stafford Tosses Two-Hitter; Maris Cracks 10th Homer

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Stafford fired a superb two-hitter and Roger Maris hit a key home run as the New York Yankees kept their one-game lead in the American League race with a 4-0 triumph over Cleveland Thursday night.

The loss was the Indians' fourth in a row and dropped them into third place, two games behind the Yankees and one back of Minnesota.

Stafford turned in a brilliant job for his fifth victory in eight decisions. The rangy young right-hander gave up a single to Al Luplow with one out in the fourth inning and another to Bubba Phillips after two were away in the fifth. In the other seven innings he retired the side in order, striking out three along the way and not allowing a single walk.

Maris' 10th homer leading off the fourth was the first hit off Perry and he gave up just one more—an infield single to Yogi Berra with two out in the seventh—before he was knocked out in the eighth.

Brewer Leads Golf Classic

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Gay Brewer Jr., a snub-nosed Kentuckian, got the jump on the game's glamor boys by firing a 6-under-par 66 Thursday for the first round lead in the $100,000 Golf Classic.

Brewer, one-putting eight greens and three-putting another for his lone bogey, put together a brace of 33's over the 7,055-yard, par 36-36-72 Upper Montclair Country Club course.

This gave the 30-year-old a one-stroke lead over Gene Littler, the U.S. Open champion, and the veteran Earl Stewart, a 40-year-old club pro from Dallas. They had 67's.

Jack Nicklaus, the robust rookie pro from Columbus, Ohio, was bracketed at 69 with former PGA and Masters champion Jack Burke, Mason Rudolph, Dave Marr, Doug Sanders and Frank Boynton. Sam Snead was in a cluster at 70.

Ray Sadecki Makes Peace With Cards

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—St. Louis Cardinal pitcher Ray Sadecki, smarting under a $250 fine, and tongue-lashing by manager Johnny Keane, made peace with the management Thursday and ended a one-day boycott.

In a curtly worded statement following a meeting between Keane, Sadecki and General Manager Bing Devine, the Cardinals announced that Keane and Sadecki has "discussed their problems and resolved their differences. As a result, Sadecki's suspension has been lifted and he will be in uniform for tonight's game."

1968 Competition In Summer Olympics Cut To 18 Sports

MOSCOW (UPI) — The International Olympic Committee (IOC) ended its 59th annual session Thursday by deciding that competition will be held in only 18 of the 22 recognized summer sports.

IOC Chancellor Otto Meyer said the rule would go into effect starting with the 1968 games. He said the IOC would decide at its next annual meeting, which is scheduled to be held at Nairobi, Kenya, in Oct. 1963, which sports would be cut.

He emphasized the committee would continue to recognize 22 summer sports and that different ones would probably be dropped from each Olympic competition.

He said the decision affected only summer sports and not the winter games. He said it would not apply to the 1964 summer games at Tokyo or winter games at Innsbruck, Austria.

By 1980, the U. S. will need seven million more acres of woodland devoted primarily to recreation or wildlife.

Cumberland Horse Racing Dates Are Transferred To Timonium

HBPA Asked Change, State Fair Offers More Purse Money

BALTIMORE (AP) — On the ground you can't have racing without horses, Cumberland's 12 days have been transferred to Timonium.

Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., president of the Cumberland Fair Assn., announced Thursday the Cumberland - at - Timonium meeting will be staged Aug. 13-Aug. 25.

Timonium will operate its own 12 days Aug. 27-Sept. 8.

24 Days Of Racing

Thus, the state fair will have the 24 days it had tried earlier this year to acquire by purchase of the Cumberland dates. The legislature balked at the move which also included abandonment of racing at Bel Air and Baltimore Raceway.

The three mile tracks, Bowie, Pimlico and Laurel, had been after the 36 days of Bel Air and the raceway.

Sen. Beall said the Maryland Racing Commission had approved his transfer under its emergency power holding that not enough horses would be available at Cumberland. The commission had allowed Cumberland to operate at Hagerstown in 1959 and Timonium in 1960 for the same reason.

HBPA Wanted Transfer

The Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn. started laying the groundwork for the transfer last spring. Letters were sent members asking them to vote for or against shipping horses to Cumberland.

The letter pointed out that more purse money would be available for them if Timonium were granted the extra days.

Sen. Beall said that Lamar Creswell, president of the horsemen's association, reported trainers "would not support our meeting in Cumberland with a sufficient number of horses."

Charles Town Twin Double Pays $12,620

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va.(AP)—Charles Town's twin double paid its biggest price of the meeting Thursday when one lucky racing fan collected $12,620.80 for correctly picking the winners of the fifth through eighth races.

The big payoff was aided by the triumphs of two long shots in the second half of the double series. More Hill Farms' Mayor Swem, a first time starter, galloped to a surprising 10-length victory in the feature John Bell Hood Purse, and Mrs. Juanita Powell's Micanopy, an 18-1 shot, captured the eighth race.

Mayor Swem, a 3-year-old felded son of Fritz Maisel, went off at 20-1 to pay $43.00, $17.00 and $8.00.

1968 Competition In Summer Olympics Cut To 18 Sports

MOSCOW (UPI) — The International Olympic Committee (IOC) ended its 59th annual session Thursday by deciding that competition will be held in only 18 of the 22 recognized summer sports.

IOC Chancellor Otto Meyer said the rule would go into effect starting with the 1968 games. He said the IOC would decide at its next annual meeting, which is scheduled to be held at Nairobi, Kenya, in Oct. 1963, which sports would be cut.

He emphasized the committee would continue to recognize 22 summer sports and that different ones would probably be dropped from each Olympic competition.

He said the decision affected only summer sports and not the winter games. He said it would not apply to the 1964 summer games at Tokyo or winter games at Innsbruck, Austria.

By 1980, the U. S. will need seven million more acres of woodland devoted primarily to recreation or wildlife.

Cumberland Horse Racing Dates Are Transferred To Timonium

HBPA Asked Change, State Fair Offers More Purse Money

BALTIMORE (AP) — On the ground you can't have racing without horses, Cumberland's 12 days have been transferred to Timonium.

Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., president of the Cumberland Fair Assn., announced Thursday the Cumberland - at - Timonium meeting will be staged Aug. 13-Aug. 25.

Timonium will operate its own 12 days Aug. 27-Sept. 8.

24 Days Of Racing

Thus, the state fair will have the 24 days it had tried earlier this year to acquire by purchase of the Cumberland dates. The legislature balked at the move which also included abandonment of racing at Bel Air and Baltimore Raceway.

The three mile tracks, Bowie, Pimlico and Laurel, had been after the 36 days of Bel Air and the raceway.

Sen. Beall said the Maryland Racing Commission had approved his transfer under its emergency power holding that not enough horses would be available at Cumberland. The commission had allowed Cumberland to operate at Hagerstown in 1959 and Timonium in 1960 for the same reason.

HBPA Wanted Transfer

The Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn. started laying the groundwork for the transfer last spring. Letters were sent members asking them to vote for or against shipping horses to Cumberland.

The letter pointed out that more purse money would be available for them if Timonium were granted the extra days.

Sen. Beall said that Lamar Creswell, president of the horsemen's association, reported trainers "would not support our meeting in Cumberland with a sufficient number of horses."

Charles Town Twin Double Pays $12,620

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Charles Town's twin double paid its biggest price of the meeting Thursday when one lucky racing fan collected $12,620.80 for correctly picking the winners of the fifth through eighth races.

The big payoff was aided by the triumphs of two long shots in the second half of the double series. More Hill Farms' Mayor Swem, a first time starter, galloped to a surprising 10-length victory in the feature John Bell Hood Purse, and Mrs. Juanita Powell's Micanopy, an 18-1 shot, captured the eighth race.

Mayor Swem, a 3-year-old felded son of Fritz Maisel, went off at 20-1 to pay $43.00, $17.00 and $8.00.

Market Prices Slightly Lower After Dull Session

Trading totaled 2,760,000 shares, down 1,430,000 from Wednesday. Brokers attributed the market's overall listlessness to investors and traders playing it cool until hearing what President Kennedy had to say about tax reforms at his press conference after the close.

The news came too late to reflect market sentiment Thursday. The President said he would ask Congress for an across-the-board income tax cut next year and he urged approval of pending tax measures to pep up the economy. dropped 1.71 reflecting a loss of 2¼ in duPont, 1⅛ in Alcoa, 1⅛ in Bethlehem Steel and 1¼ in Woolworth. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index slipped 0.01.

There were a total of 1,267 issues that changed hands Thursday of which 528 advanced and 499 declined. Of these 20 hit new 1962 lows and 5 new highs.

Among the blue chips, Eastman Kodak gained 1¾. A leading financial publication reported after the close the company said it "may increase" its dividend this year if earnings continue to improve. Also among the pivotals, International Nickel tacked on 1⅛.

Thursday's narrowly mixed action came in the wake of two days of rising prices and a generally improved business backdrop which included record auto sales for the final third of May, rising U.S. exports for April and the spurt in last month's mail order sales.

Market Prices Slightly Lower After Dull Session

Trading totaled 2,760,000 shares, down 1,430,000 from Wednesday. Brokers attributed the market's overall listlessness to investors and traders playing it cool until hearing what President Kennedy had to say about tax reforms at his press conference after the close.

The news came too late to reflect market sentiment Thursday. The President said he would ask Congress for an across-the-board income tax cut next year and he urged approval of pending tax measures to pep up the economy. dropped 1.71 reflecting a loss of 2¼ in duPont, 1⅛ in Alcoa, 1⅛ in Bethlehem Steel and 1¼ in Woolworth. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index slipped 0.01.

There were a total of 1,267 issues that changed hands Thursday of which 528 advanced and 499 declined. Of these 20 hit new 1962 lows and 5 new highs.

Among the blue chips, Eastman Kodak gained 1¾. A leading financial publication reported after the close the company said it "may increase" its dividend this year if earnings continue to improve. Also among the pivotals, International Nickel tacked on 1⅛.

Thursday's narrowly mixed action came in the wake of two days of rising prices and a generally improved business backdrop which included record auto sales for the final third of May, rising U.S. exports for April and the spurt in last month's mail order sales.

Airport Work Included In FAA Program

Proposed improvements at the Cumberland Municipal Airport have been included in the Federal Aviation Agency's proposed five-year program of additions and improvements to the nation's civilian airports.

The program, sent to Congress Thursday, calls for new airports in Annapolis, Baltimore and Bel Air. A heliport for Baltimore also is among the recommendations.

Airports for which the agency proposes improvements include those already functioning at Baltimore, Aberdeen, Cumberland, Elkton, Gaithersburg, Hagerstown, Oakland and Westminster.

The agency's program, which would get under way July 1, requires appropriations by Congress. The entire Maryland phase of the program would involve nearly $20 million.

The City of Cumberland last year submitted an application to the FAA for federal funds toward the rehabilitation of the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

The application was not based on a firm decision to modernize the airport but rather to make it possible for the city to tap the federal allotment in case it was found desirable and feasible to undertake the work.

The FAA also proposed that two fields be built in West Virginia. They would be located at Keyser and Logan.

The church, which is located next to Centre Street Methodist Church, is being demolished and employes of the Humbertson Salvage Company reached the cornerstone yesterday.

The 1881 cornerstone was opened by Francis G. Humbertson of the salvage company and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum. In it they found two Bibles, an 1881 copy of the old Daily Times, a 10-cent piece dated 1857, and a list of building committee members.

Generally satisfactory traffic movement was reported yesterday as the Police Department instituted another trial period for automatic operation of Baltimore Street traffic lights.

The test was held after about 10 seconds were added to the vehicular traffic cycles.

Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming said officers still report that drivers are not paying close enough attention to the lights, and are not moving promptly at light changes.

DemoCampaign Platform To Be Adopted Today

Walsh Will Head Resolutions Unit

BALTIMORE (AP)—Democratic consultants worked late Thursday night to polish a campaign platform they hope will be acceptable in detail to all segments of the party and in general to a majority of all voters in November.

It will be called to order at noon by Harry T. Gross, acting state party chairman.

The outlined program calls for Francis X. Gallagher, former state delegate from Baltimore and presently People's Counsel before the Public Service Commission, to nominate Gov. Tawes. Sen. Mary L. Nock, D-Wicomico, will second the nomination.

Sen. Margaret Schweinhaut, D-Montgomery, is scheduled to be named chairman of the credentials committee to certify those eligible to vote.

Thomas D'Alesandro then is to be made permanent and temporary chairman and later will deliver one of the "pep" talks in a keynote speech.

Walsh Selected

The task of hammering out the planks in the platform on which Gov. J. Millard Tawes and other statewide candidates will seek election in November will be directed by William C. Walsh of Cumberland.

This job will be done in the resolutions committee. Individuals may offer suggested planks, but by and large the platform will have been drafted in advance and mere confirmation will be asked of the delegates to the convention who were elected May 15.

However, platform-framers face hot issues expected to be raised by the Montgomery County delegation. That group has announced plans to seek planks calling for reapportionment of the State Senate and abolition of the unit-vote system of nominating candidates for statewide office.

The recent special session of the Maryland General Assembly added 19 seats to the House of Delegates to account for population gains in more populous counties. The State Senate, however, was not reapportioned.

Is Under Attack

Several court attacks on the unit-vote system already have been made. Under the system, candidates can win nomination by winning county unit-vote blocks in

Potomac Edison Official Explains Civil War Interest

The Potomac Edison Company became interested in promoting the Civil War Centennial celebration because it was discovered several years ago in research that 60 per cent of the fighting in the Civil War took place in the area served by the PE system in parts of four states.

He cited some of the things being undertaken by the electric utility in its promotional program. Each month the company prints a tabloid-size newspaper which reprints "news" as it appeared 100 years ago.

Maps emphazing the Civil War centennial attractions in this area have been prepared by PE and have been distributed throughout this country as well as such far off places as the Philippines, Japan and Italy. He showed a type of road sign which PE is encouraging communities to buy to publicize special histroical attractions in their area.

As a long range objective, Potomac Edison is hopeful that this program will attract new industry to this area. One new plant near Charles Town, W. Va., is believed to have come there as a result of the owners' interest in the Civil War.

It is difficult to measure the value of this promotional cam-

Seven Delegates Named For GOP Convention

Six, Plus Alternate, Are Appointed

Only one of the delegates, Earl E. Manges, has a clearly defined status. He was the only person to file for election as a convention delegate in the May 15 Republican primary.

The Allegany County State Central Committee on Monday, however, appointed two of its members and four other persons delegates and selected an alternate.

Mrs. John Hafer and L. Fred Dean are the State Central Committee members. Other delegates are J. Glenn Beall Jr., George Lucas, Mrs. John E. Lancaster and William Abbott. Mrs. Betty Foster is the alternate.

The status of the delegates is to be clarified at a pre-convention caucus of the Allegany countians tomorrow morning. One question to be resolved is whether each delegate will be entitled to vote, or whether only the chairman selected at the caucus will be able to vote. Delegation chairmen normally announce the votes of their delegations.

While Mr. Manges was still the only Allegany County delegate, there was a question whether he would be able to cast the seven convention votes to which Allegany County is entitled, or whether he would have but one vote.

Whatever the status of the other delegates, all will be able to participate in the reorganization of the Maryland Republican State Central Committee which also will be completed tomorrow in Baltimore.

Airport Work Included In FAA Program

Proposed improvements at the Cumberland Municipal Airport have been included in the Federal Aviation Agency's proposed five-year program of additions and improvements to the nation's civilian airports.

The program, sent to Congress Thursday, calls for new airports in Annapolis, Baltimore and Bel Air. A heliport for Baltimore also is among the recommendations.

Airports for which the agency proposes improvements include those already functioning at Baltimore, Aberdeen, Cumberland, Elkton, Gaithersburg, Hagerstown, Oakland and Westminster.

The agency's program, which would get under way July 1, requires appropriations by Congress. The entire Maryland phase of the program would involve nearly $20 million.

The City of Cumberland last year submitted an application to the FAA for federal funds toward the rehabilitation of the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

City officials estimated about $200,000 would be needed to resurface runways at the airport and to provide a new lighting system.

The application was not based on a firm decision to modernize the airport but rather to make it possible for the city to tap the federal allotment in case it was found desirable and feasible to undertake the work.

The FAA also proposed that two fields be built in West Virginia. They would be located at Keyser and Logan.

McKendree's Cornerstone Is Opened

A box containing several Bibles dating back to 1881 and other items was found yesterday afternoon when salvage workers uncovered a cornerstone in McKendree Methodist Church on North Centre Street.

The church, which is located next to Centre Street Methodist Church, is being demolished and employes of the Humbertson Salvage Company reached the cornerstone yesterday.

The 1881 cornerstone was opened by Francis G. Humbertson of the salvage company and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum. In it they found two Bibles, an 1881 copy of the old Daily Times, a 10-cent piece dated 1857, and a list of building committee members.

All of the effects in the cornerstone were turned over to officials of McKendree Church who plan to build a new church on Paca Street.

Traffic Moves Well In Test

Generally satisfactory traffic movement was reported yesterday as the Police Department instituted another trial period for automatic operation of Baltimore Street traffic lights.

The test was held after about 10 seconds were added to the vehicular traffic cycles.

Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming said officers still report that drivers are not paying close enough attention to the lights, and are not moving promptly at light changes.

Demo Campaign Platform To Be Adopted Today

Walsh Will Head Resolutions Unit

BALTIMORE (AP)—Democratic consultants worked late Thursday night to polish a campaign platform they hope will be acceptable in detail to all segments of the party and in general to a majority of all voters in November.

It will be called to order at noon by Harry T. Gross, acting state party chairman.

The outlined program calls for Francis X. Gallagher, former state delegate from Baltimore and presently People's Counsel before the Public Service Commission, to nominate Gov. Tawes. Sen. Mary L. Nock, D-Wicomico, will second the nomination.

Sen. Margaret Schweinhaut, D-Montgomery, is scheduled to be named chairman of the credentials committee to certify those eligible to vote.

Thomas D'Alesandro then is to be made permanent and temporary chairman and later will deliver one of the "pep" talks in a keynote speech.

Walsh Selected

The task of hammering out the planks in the platform on which Gov. J. Millard Tawes and other statewide candidates will seek election in November will be directed by William C. Walsh of Cumberland.

This job will be done in the resolutions committee. Individuals may offer suggested planks, but by and large the platform will have been drafted in advance and mere confirmation will be asked of the delegates to the convention who were elected May 15.

However, platform-framers face hot issues expected to be raised by the Montgomery County delegation. That group has announced plans to seek planks calling for reapportionment of the State Senate and abolition of the unit-vote system of nominating candidates for statewide office.

Delegation chairman Walter O'Connell says members from Montgomery already have voted in favor of the planks.

The recent special session of the Maryland General Assembly added 19 seats to the House of Delegates to account for population gains in more populous counties. The State Senate, however, was not reapportioned.

Is Under Attack

Several court attacks on the unit-vote system already have been made. Under the system, candidates can win nomination by winning county unit-vote blocks in

Potomac Edison Official Explains Civil War Interest

The Potomac Edison Company became interested in promoting the Civil War Centennial celebration because it was discovered several years ago in research that 60 per cent of the fighting in the Civil War took place in the area served by the PE system in parts of four states.

He cited some of the things being undertaken by the electric utility in its promotional program. Each month the company prints a tabloid-size newspaper which reprints "news" as it appeared 100 years ago.

Maps emphazing the Civil War centennial attractions in this area have been prepared by PE and have been distributed throughout this country as well as such far off places as the Philippines, Japan and Italy. He showed a type of road sign which PE is encouraging communities to buy to publicize special histroical attractions in their area.

As a long range objective, Potomac Edison is hopeful that this program will attract new industry to this area. One new plant near Charles Town, W. Va., is believed to have come there as a result of the owners' interest in the Civil War.

It is difficult to measure the value of this promotional cam-

Seven Delegates Named For GOP Convention

Six, Plus Alternate, Are Appointed

Seven delegates and an alternate will represent Allegany County at the state Republican convention tomorrow in Baltimore.

Only one of the delegates, Earl E. Manges, has a clearly defined status. He was the only person to file for election as a convention delegate in the May 15 Republican primary.

The Allegany County State Central Committee on Monday, however, appointed two of its members and four other persons delegates and selected an alternate.

The status of the delegates is to be clarified at a pre-convention caucus of the Allegany countians tomorrow morning. One question to be resolved is whether each delegate will be entitled to vote, or whether only the chairman selected at the caucus will be able to vote. Delegation chairmen normally announce the votes of their delegations.

While Mr. Manges was still the only Allegany County delegate, there was a question whether he would be able to cast the seven convention votes to which Allegany County is entitled, or whether he would have but one vote.

Whatever the status of the other delegates, all will be able to participate in the reorganization of the Maryland Republican State Central Committee which also will be completed tomorrow in Baltimore.

Mr. Manges, besides being a delegate, is a member of the resolutions committee, and Mrs. Hafer is a member of the credentials committee.
